North Vietnam Blasted By 350 U.S. Planes

Supply Push Behind Air Strikes

By GEORGE ESPER
Associated Press Writer
SAIGON (AP) — As the United States intensified its air attacks on North Vietnam's supply lines to Laos and South Vietnam, the North Vietnamese intensified their attacks on the American planes. Now the Americans are hitting back at the enemy's antiaircraft defenses in a big way.

The escalation of the air war revolves around two mountain passes on the border between North Vietnam and Laos, the Barthelemy and the Mu Gia passes. Guns, bullets and food flow from the interior of North Vietnam through the passes to North Vietnamese troops fighting in northern Laos, in South Vietnam and in Cambodia.

The United States has been hitting these two passes with hundreds of air strikes in efforts to slow the flow of war supplies. But as the United States increased its air strikes, the North Vietnamese increased their attacks on the American planes, trying to keep the passes open. The Barthelemy pass lies on Highway 7, 150 miles southwest of Hanoi and 235 miles north-west of the demilitarized zone. Supplies go through the pass to North Vietnamese troops fighting in northern Laos. Despite the heavy U.S. air strikes, the North Vietnamese captured the Plain of Jars last week and inflicted heavy losses on the Laotian defenders.

The Mu Gia pass, 160 miles farther south, is the beginning of the Ho Chi Minh trail, the supply lifeline to North Vietnamese troops in southern Laos, Cambodia and South Vietnam. The Ho Chi Minh trail is a complex network of unpaved roads, trails and waterways totaling nearly 3,000 miles, and U.S. strategists consider it better to strike it at its beginning, or "choke point," the farther the supplies get down the trail, the harder they are to intercept.

North Vietnam is said to have doubled the number of antiaircraft missiles and large-caliber guns guarding the Barthelemy and Mu Gia passes. And for the first time since the bombing halt three years ago, MIG jets are rising to harass U.S. planes.

Disturbed by the mushrooming buildup of antiaircraft defenses against the diminishing U.S. air forces in Southeast Asia and embarrassed by the loss of six planes since Dec. 10, the United States decided it would take a massive strike force to reduce the enemy threat. President Nixon ordered large-scale "protective reaction" strikes to begin Sunday and today.

U.S. officials do not feel the strikes will lead to a resumption of the full-scale bombing of North Vietnam. They note there have been eight similar large strikes since May 1970.

There is no doubt that the United States has air superiority over North Vietnam's tiny air force. It is the ground antiaircraft defenses, the surface-to-air missiles and artillery, that worry the United States.

One U.S. officer said last week: "They don't have the assets (Continued on Page 2)

Antiaircraft Sites, Supply Depots Targets

SAIGON (AP) — An armada of 350 American fighter-bombers pounded antiaircraft defenses and supply depots in North Vietnam around the clock tonight. "Every sign points to further operations," said informants, indicating a third day of heavy raids Tuesday.

It was the biggest air attack on North Vietnam since President Johnson's bombing halt three years ago.

North Vietnam claimed that five F4 Phantoms were shot down Sunday, two of them by antiaircraft fire about 80 miles south of Hanoi. Radio Hanoi said two American airmen were killed when their plane crashed nose first into a rice field. Earlier Radio Hanoi said that other "pilots were killed or captured" but gave no numbers.

The U.S. Command remained silent on Hanoi's claims and withheld details of the raids. But field reports from search and rescue units indicated there had been some American losses.

Informants said President Nixon ordered the raids in retaliation for the loss of six U.S. planes in the past two weeks and as a warning to Hanoi "not to push" the United States too far. It was the ninth large-scale air operation inside North Vietnam that has been announced since May 1970.

Several hours before the air raids began, Radio Hanoi warned that no American prisoners of war would be released "so long as U.S. warplanes continue to violate North Vietnam and the Nixon administration refuses to take the steps necessary to end the war."

The strikes began Sunday morning from Air Force bases in South Vietnam and Thailand and from the carriers Constellation and Coral Sea in the Tonkin Gulf. The raids continued around the clock.

While informants in Saigon said the raiders were making an all-out assault to lessen the threat of North Vietnamese MIGs, surface-to-air missiles and antiaircraft artillery, the U.S. Command said the strikes were of "limited duration" and would end at an undisclosed time.

The command said only "military targets" were being hit, but Radio Hanoi claimed that the planes bombed and strafed a hospital in Thanh Hoa, a provincial capital 70 miles south of Hanoi, and populated areas in (Continued on Page 20)

Nixon, Brandt Slate Talks-At Florida White House

KEY BISCAIYNE, Fla. (AP) — President Nixon has arrived here to meet with West German Chancellor Willy Brandt for the fourth in a series of six summit talks he is having with allied leaders.

"The President feels this is a particularly timely point to have further discussion with Brandt, and he is looking forward to them," Press Secretary Ronald L. Ziegler said after Nixon's arrival here Sunday night. "He feels they will be productive, as the others have been."

They will meet Tuesday and Wednesday.

Nixon, anticipating his trip to Peking in late February and to Moscow in late May, met earlier this month with Canadian Prime Minister Pierre Elliott Trudeau, French President Georges Pompidou and British Prime Minister Edward Heath.

He will confer next week with Japanese Prime Minister Eisaku Sato at the Western White House in San Clemente, Calif. At a later date in Washington, he will meet with the Italian prime minister.

The American and West German leaders will talk in one of two bayfront homes Nixon owns here. Secretary of State William P. Rogers flew to Florida with the President and he will meet simultaneously in a nearby hotel with his Bonn counterpart, Foreign Minister Walter Scheel.

Nixon, just before flying here, placed a telephone call to Washington Redskins Coach George Allen to commiserate on the Redskins 24-20 loss to the San Francisco 49ers in the National Football League playoff game in the Bay City.

Chevalier Said Resting Better

PARIS (AP) — Hospital authorities said today that Maurice Chevalier was in serious condition, but his private secretary gave a more encouraging report after visiting the 83-year-old showman.

Chevalier has been undergoing treatment in Necker Hospital for two weeks because of a kidney ailment.

Felix Paquet, Chevalier's secretary, told newsmen after visiting the old man this morning: "He is seated in his armchair. He is all right. He is better... He is lucid. His treatment is continuing."

Ziegler said Nixon watched the contest on television and told Allen afterward: "You can be proud that you had a good season. It was a fine game."

Landing at nearby Homestead Air Force Base, Nixon strode to greet a few score well-wishers and talked mostly about football as he chatted his way along a fence in front of the terminal.

Nixon is expected to return to Washington in time to see his wife Pat, who did not make this trip, off on a 10-day African tour that begins New Year's Day.

Statue Of Liberty Becomes Protest Site For Veterans

NEW YORK (AP) — Sixteen young antiwar veterans barricaded inside the Statue of Liberty said today they would not leave until President Nixon set a date for the withdrawal of all American forces from Southeast Asia.

At Travis Air Force Base in California 18 enlisted men—just back from Vietnam where officials said they used narcotics, seized a floor of an observation ward to protest military drug treatment policies.

When the veterans took over the Statue of Liberty Sunday night, they had vowed to maintain their occupation until New Year's Eve to protest continuation of the Vietnam war. But this morning, after receiving what they called a consensus of veterans' groups the world over, they issued a statement demanding setting of a withdrawal date.

The takeover of the statue in New York Harbor and the protest in California were two of several actions taken around the nation by antiwar veterans and servicemen during the Christmas season.

The statement of the statue occupiers said in part: "Last spring we threw our medals into the dirt because we thought it would end the war. Now, as we sit inside the Statue of Liberty, having captured the hope and imagination of a war-weary nation, we can no longer tolerate the war in Southeast Asia."

"Mr. Nixon, you set the date—we'll evacuate."

The veterans were occupying the 100-foot-square pedestal of the 305-foot-high national monument. Their takeover was described initially by Vietnam Veterans Against the War as "a symbolic action... to show support for any person who refuses to kill."

Administrators for the National Park Service, which has jurisdiction over Liberty Island, talked with the group during the night but there was no indication what action officials would take if the men did not leave.

Some of the protesters wore military fatigues and medals, others were in civilian clothes. They mingled with the tourists who took ferryboats to the national landmark Sunday, then hid at closing time.

A night watchman discovered the group about 7 p.m. The group evicted the watchman and used lumber taken from a renovation project inside the statue to barricade the doors.

In a statement issued from the VVAW office in Manhattan shortly before midnight, the group said: "We support any action taken by our brothers in Southeast Asia to end the war and we demand that this message be transferred to our brothers in Southeast Asia."

Al Hubbard, national coordinator of the VVAW, said the demonstrators came from an encampment of veterans near Valley Forge, Pa. He said they would not resist with violence if authorities tried to evict them.

"There will be no violent confrontation with the police," Hubbard declared. "They will use their resourcefulness to prevent the police from dislodging them. They are in good spirits."

"The training the Army gave them was very good and prepared them for all eventualities. Reconnaissance teams were sent out to the statue before this action was taken. We are in constant touch with them," he said.

Hotel officials said 203 guests were registered at the 23-story luxury hotel on Christmas Eve and 235 employees were scheduled to be on duty when the fire began at 10 a.m.

It was the worst hotel fire in history, surpassing the 119 killed in the Wincoff Hotel fire in 1946 at Atlanta, Ga.

Officials said the death toll could still rise as the ruins are sifted. More than 100 persons were treated at hospitals for injuries suffered in the fire.

Business members of the Pay Board issued a blanket challenge of all scheduled pay raises exceeding 7 per cent, throwing doubt on such future raises. Some other members questioned whether a blanket challenge was legal or practical, but the business members said they would challenge individually each raise over per cent in any case.

Russia, Red China Increase Economic And Arms Aid

WASHINGTON (AP) — A State Department study reports that the Soviet Union stepped up its arms-aid commitments to non-Communist countries sharply last year while Red China became the largest Communist pledger of economic aid.

The survey by the State Department's intelligence and research bureau on Communist aid and trade with developing countries in 1970 dealt with pledges which can vary widely from year to year.

Actual aid deliveries tend to run lower than the amounts pledged and to fluctuate from one year to the next.

The study estimated that less than half of $11 billion in Communist economic assistance pledged to less-developed countries from 1954 through 1970 has been delivered. It said Communist arms-aid deliveries to these countries lag less than the economic.

According to the report:

—Russia's new pledges of arms assistance to non-Communist developing countries last year came to $800 million, the largest total since 1964, with most of this going to Egypt. Peking pledged little or no military deliveries to these countries.

—Of the total Communist pledges of $1.1 billion in new economic aid in 1970, Red China committed the lion's share with $709 million—nearly as much as China's entire previous economic aid since 1956.

—Moscow's new economic-assistance pledges to non-Communist lands in 1970 dropped to $204 million, one-third of its previous year's $662 million and its smallest annual rate since 1962.

—Under the Soviet arms-aid program, at least 20,000 trainees have gone to the Soviet Union from less-developed countries since 1955.

—Last year the Soviets had 16,100 military advisers in a half dozen of these lands, mainly 14,000 in Egypt.

—About 24,000 Communist economic technicians worked in non-Communist developing countries in 1970, including 10,600 from Russia and 8,110 from Red China.

The State Department report ascribed Red China's new venture into large-scale foreign economic aid to a "bid for a greater role as an international power" following China's cultural revolution isolationist years.

The prime item in the Chinese aid program was $400 million pledged to Tanzania and Zambia to help build the Tanzania railroad. Peking also pledged $100 million to Pakistan.

The report's aid figures do not include the large amounts devoted by Communist countries to other Communist states such as North Vietnam and Cuba.

Twelve of the 17 samples contained mercury, Wilmsen said. Even adjusting for wide error, he added, would not alter the fact that "these specimens contain relatively large amounts of mercury."

From these findings, Wilmsen inferred that mercury concentrations in fish from pollution-free waters have been as high at various times in the past as they are now, emphasizing the importance of any additional mercury added by man.

"Such an interpretation is compatible," he said, "with conclusions that, in general, natural environmental mercury distributions have not changed radically through time."

Toledo Youth Dies In Crash

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP) — Kenneth Black, 15, of Toledo, was killed today when a car in which he was a passenger went out of control, hit a parked truck and overturned.

The driver of the car, James Thacker, 19, was charged with driving while intoxicated. Another youth was injured, but not seriously.

Police said the car jumped a divider and careened into a parking lot for tractor-trailer rigs. It hit one of the trucks,

WASHINGTON (AP) — The machinery to enforce Phase 2 wage, price and rent controls is in place as 1971 nears its end, and administration officials are expressing hope—but not making predictions—that the restraints can be removed before 1972 ends.

President Nixon signed the bill extending his control authority for the full period he asked, through April 30, 1973. The legislation gives him essentially what he requested from Congress and one or two things he did not seek.

One is a pay raise for federal civilian employees and the military Jan. 1 instead of July 1, at an estimated cost of more than $1 billion.

The act also specifies that pay raises caught in the freeze are to be paid under certain conditions. AFL-CIO President George Meany hailed this provision as a victory for labor. Among the beneficiaries are an estimated 1.7 million teachers.

Secretary of Commerce Maurice H. Stans, meeting with newsmen, predicted a strong upsurge in the economy in 1972, perhaps reaching 6½ per cent, which would be the biggest annual gain since 1955.

Asked about the duration of the controls, he said "the de-control process already is being studied," but that no one now can be sure when Phase 2 will end.

The cost-of-living index moved up two-tenths of 1 per cent for November, the same rate as for October. It reflected the continued effect of the freeze that ended in mid-month and administration officials expressed satisfaction.

Christmas shoppers apparently were not deterred. The Commerce Department, after a telephone check, said it appears seasonal buying was up 11 to 12 per cent in dollars over last year, 8 to 9 per cent in volume, which would be the biggest annual gain in five years.

The Pay Board and Price Commission continued to make decisions—and to run into controversy.

The commission issued complicated new guidelines on rents that chairman C. Jackson Grayson Jr. said would hold average increases to 3 or 3½ per cent. But Mrs. Rosetta Wylie, tenant member of the Rent Advisory Board, said the regulations would be inflationary, enabling landlords to hike rents as much as 30 per cent in rare cases.

Business members of the Pay Board issued a blanket challenge of all scheduled pay raises exceeding 7 per cent, throwing doubt on such future raises. Some other members questioned whether a blanket challenge was legal or practical, but the business members said they would challenge individually each raise over per cent in any case.

Internationally, the newly devalued dollar surprised its guardians by riding high on foreign exchanges.

157 Killed In Seoul Hotel Fire

SEOUL (AP) — A U.S. Embassy spokesman today identified an American among 157 killed in a Christmas Day hotel fire as George W. Goodwin, a civilian employee at the nearby Osan Air Force Base.

Goodwin, 49, is survived by his mother, Mrs. Ruth Goodwin of Blackwell, Okla., the spokesman said. He was one of nine Americans registered at the Taeyonkang Hotel when fire raged through it Saturday.

At least 157 persons died in the blaze. Some bodies pulled from the ruins were burned beyond recognition, and positive identification of all the victims has been impossible. Goodwin is the only American victim identified so far.

Rising Danger Of Mercury Contamination Disclosed

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — For at least tens of centuries fish have been concentrating mercury in their tissues, a scientist reported today.

"These findings reinforce warnings that continual discharge by man of even small amounts of antimonial mercury can have locally serious effects upon animals and human life," said Edwin Wilmsen, curator of the University of Michigan's Museum of Anthropology.

Wilmsen added that in order to evaluate adequately the significance of mercury and other elements in the environment today, scientists must know something about these levels in the past.

"Archaeological materials are the ideal sources of data for gaining such knowledge," Wilmsen said in a paper prepared for the 138th annual meeting of the American Association for the Advancement of Science.

Wilmsen said the museum analyzed 17 samples of fish remains from three archaeological sites—the Saginaw Valley, near Saginaw, Mich., which is dated between 100 B.C.

and 400 A.D.; a site near the confluence of the Illinois River with Apple Creek, of the same era; and the pre-Inca Chiles site in the southern coast of Peru, which dates to about 1200 A.D.

Twelve of the 17 samples contained mercury, Wilmsen said. Even adjusting for wide error, he added, would not alter the fact that "these specimens contain relatively large amounts of mercury."

pears seasonal buying was up 11 to 12 per cent in dollars over last year, 8 to 9 per cent in volume, which would be the biggest annual gain in five years.

The Pay Board and Price Commission continued to make decisions—and to run into controversy.

The commission issued complicated new guidelines on rents that chairman C. Jackson Grayson Jr. said would hold average increases to 3 or 3½ per cent. But Mrs. Rosetta Wylie, tenant member of the Rent Advisory Board, said the regulations would be inflationary, enabling landlords to hike rents as much as 30 per cent in rare cases.

Business members of the Pay Board issued a blanket challenge of all scheduled pay raises exceeding 7 per cent, throwing doubt on such future raises. Some other members questioned whether a blanket challenge was legal or practical, but the business members said they would challenge individually each raise over per cent in any case.

Internationally, the newly devalued dollar surprised its guardians by riding high on foreign exchanges.

National Elks Offer College Scholarships

Ernest Enoch, Exalted Ruler of Circleville Elks Lodge Number 77, announced today the Trustees of the Order's National Foundation have again offered well over half a million dollars in college scholarships for the academic year 1972-73.

The deadline date for filing applications is February 1, 1972. John Fissell, Youth Activities chairman, urged students in the Pickaway County area who need financial help in order to go to college to see the advisors or the principal of their high school for more information and application forms.

The Elks National Foundation offers 730 scholarships, ranging from $600 to $2,500, with the total coming to over $520,000. 365 awards will go to boys and the same number to girls.

High school seniors are eligible if they are United States citizens and reside in the jurisdiction of the Order. The awards are given with no restrictions as to race, creed or country of origin.

In addition to scholastic attainment, applicants are judged on citizenship, personality, leadership, perseverance, resourcefulness, patriotism and financial need.

The Elks National Foundation scholarships and "Most Valuable Student" awards program is now in its 38th year and has been approved by the National Association of Secondary School Principals.

Well over $5 1/2 million in scholarships have been distributed by the National Foundation since its inception.

School Aid May Become Hot Issue

WASHINGTON (AP) — Among the issues certain to be raised in Congress next year are a major increase in federal aid to education and the money to finance it.

In outlining the administration plans for 1972 at a year-end news conference, Health, Education and Welfare Secretary Elliot L. Richardson said the questions of revenue-raising and aid to parochial schools remain unresolved.

Among revenue solutions being considered, he said, is a value-added tax—a pyramiding sales tax added to a product as it moves through various stages of manufacture and distribution. Aid to parochial schools, he said, might be accomplished through a tax-erected for parents.

Several Democrats have introduced bills calling for a substantial increase in federal aid to elementary and secondary schools and hope to get a bill before the House by March.

Richardson said the impetus for increasing federal school aid comes from a California Supreme Court decision last Aug. 30 that found the state's method of financing education unconstitutional due to inequities in local property taxes. A federal court in Texas made a similar finding Thursday.

Because most communities rely heavily on this method of school financing, the decisions have had widespread repercussions.

New President Brings Political Crisis To Italy

ROME (AP) — Italy got a new president for Christmas and a political crisis that may mean the end of eight years of Center-Left government.

Giovanni Leone, an affable 63-year-old Neapolitan politician, was elected by Parliament after 15 days of voting, talking, screaming insults and a little fighting.

Leone, a Christian Democrat, won as a man of the center. Although partners in the government, his party and the Socialists split over the presidential election and fought bitterly. Observers think it will be a long-time before they can get together again in another government.

Avanti, the Socialist party newspaper, accused the Christian Democrats today of a move to the right "that included the Fascists in a repellent and mongrel embrace." The Socialists charge that the neo-Fascist Italian Social Movement, the MSI, which gave Leone the kiss of death in the last election seven years ago, this time gave him the election.

In 1964, the MSI said it would vote for Leone, and he immediately withdrew from the race. This time, the neo-Fascists said they would cast blank ballots. But the voting was secret. Leone won with a majority of only 13 votes, and the leftists charge that he got 36 from the MSI. The Christian Democrats deny this.

Park Given Wide Powers

Korean Assembly Approves Measure

SEOUL (AP) — A bill granting President Chung Hee Park sweeping emergency powers was promulgated into law today after Park's majority in the National Assembly adopted it despite an opposition sit-in.

The bill gives Park power to control prices and wages, restrain labor unions, curb press freedom and take other measures under the state of national emergency he proclaimed Dec. 6. The opposition New Democratic party contended Park's claims that attack by North Korea is imminent were unfounded and charged the emergency powers were designed to set up one-man rule.

To block a vote on the bill, the New Democrats had occupied the speaker's rostrum in the assembly hall since last Tuesday. But early today 111 Democratic Republicans and two independents met in the Foreign Affairs Committee room and adopted the bill without debate. The single-house assembly has 204 members.

The New Democrats charged that the vote was illegal.

Several hundred troops and policemen ringed the assembly buildings when the vote was taken, and the opposition members made no attempt to interfere.

Famous Statue Marred By Erosion

By SERGIO LEITAO

RIO DE JANEIRO (AP) — The famous Christ statue on Corcovado Mountain is suffering the effects of time, erosion and defacing by visitors. But local officials have promised to fix it up for next September's celebration of Brazil's 150th anniversary of independence.

"I hope by then the statue will be completely restored and will be a tourist attraction equal to the Statue of Liberty," said Rui Pereira da Silva, head of the city's Tourism Department.

Pictured on countless postcards and travel posters, the statue stands 2,400 feet above Rio's shimmering white beaches and striking blue Guanabara Bay. It is 120 feet tall and 93 wide through the outstretched arms. Each arm weighs 80 tons, and each hand eight tons, contributing to the total weight of 1,145 tons. The monument was dedicated in 1931.

Although still impressive from a distance, the statue in its present condition is a letdown to some tourists who see it close up for the first time.

The monument is cracked and chipped in several places. The cement guardrail behind it is broken, creating a hazard for children who could go tumbling down the mountain with a misplaced step. Hundreds of visitors have defaced the pedestal by scribbling their names on it.

There also is fear the statue, weakened and neglected, simply may fall over one day.

The disappointment only vanishes on bright, sunny days, when visitors contemplate the breathtaking landscape that spreads out in all directions from Corcovado. From the base of the statue you can see Guanabara Bay, Sugar Loaf, downtown Rio, Ipanema Beach, and Maracana — the world's biggest soccer stadium.

The project for restoring the statue calls for the installation of elevators or escalators from the train terminal and automobile parking area to the base of the monument. The guardrail and protecting walls will be repaired and the pedestal will be scrubbed clean, officials pledge.

The Tourism Department said it is considering buying modern trains to replace the antiquated coaches that now go up and down the mountain.

Nixon Named Man Of Year By Magazine

NEW YORK (AP) — President Nixon says his visit to Communist China "is just to open communication" while his summit talk with Soviet leaders will be "basically a substantive meeting," Time magazine reports.

Time, which names the President as "Man of the Year" in its current issue, quoted Nixon as saying that the success of the two visits "will be determined by what follows those meetings, not the communiques that come out of them."

Nixon said the most important decision he made in 1971 was to go to mainland China, but stressed that its importance lay "in terms of building to the long-term future. It may well benefit not the present occupant of this office, but somebody five, 10 or 15 years from now," he said.

On the domestic front, the President said his most difficult decision was his move to impose controls on the economy.

"I don't believe in controls as an end in themselves or on a permanent basis. On the other hand, I am an activist—nobody believed that until this year. Being an activist, I felt we had to jolt the American economy on the inflation side," he said.

Later, talking generally about the decision-making process, Nixon said, "Great decisions, if they are to be good decisions, must be made coolly . . . The decisions that are important must be made alone."

He said the American people want to think that if there is a crisis, the President "will be cool and sober. They also want to think that he's a human guy who likes his wife and kids and a good time."

Cardinal Cooke Visits Refugees

CALCUTTA, India (AP) — "These people are the whole of humanity's concern," Terence Cardinal Cooke said today as he walked among some of the poorest people on earth.

The Roman Catholic archbishop of New York appeared deeply moved by morning visits to squalid camps for refugees from warfare on the Indian subcontinent.

Before leaving for Bangkok and Saigon, where he is to preside at New Year services as chaplain of the U.S. armed forces, the cardinal called for the world to help India rehabilitate the millions of Bengalis displaced by nine months of military action in their homeland, Bangla Desh.

There also is fear the statue, weakened and neglected, simply may fall over one day.

The disappointment only vanishes on bright, sunny days, when visitors contemplate the breathtaking landscape that spreads out in all directions from Corcovado. From the base of the statue you can see Guanabara Bay, Sugar Loaf, downtown Rio, Ipanema Beach, and Maracana — the world's biggest soccer stadium.

The project for restoring the statue calls for the installation of elevators or escalators from the train terminal and automobile parking area to the base of the monument. The guardrail and protecting walls will be repaired and the pedestal will be scrubbed clean, officials pledge.

The Tourism Department said it is considering buying modern trains to replace the antiquated coaches that now go up and down the mountain.

Stock Market Is Irregular

NEW YORK (AP) — Stock market prices held to a small gain but appeared to be drifting slightly lower today in moderate trading.

The Dow Jones average of 30 industrials at noon was up 2.26 at 883.43. Earlier, it was up nearly 3½ points.

Advances outnumbered declines on the New York Stock Exchange by 6 to 5.

Analysts said the market may have gotten a small boost from Commerce Secretary Maurice H. Stans' comment this weekend that the economy would get off to a good start next year.

Pizza Is Named Toledo Law Chief

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP) — Frank T. Pizza, 46, was appointed city law director today to replace Louis Young, 65, who will retire Friday.

Pizza, a city employee since 1950, has been an assistant law director since 1958. He is a member of the executive committee of the Toledo Bar Association.

Pizza's appointment was made by City Manager James Daken.

A $10 million 100-bed hospital to be known as the Children's Medical Center of New York will be built at New Hyde Park in Nassau County. Completion is expected in 1975.

HERALD CARRIER — Jean Crawford, the youngest Herald carrier has 74 subscribers on her route. She is pictured rolling her papers of the Circleville Christmas edition.

Girl Carrier Youngest On Herald Staff

The youngest carrier of the Circleville Herald is Jean Crawford, 10-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Crawford, 503 E. Mound St.

Jean "inherited" her 74 customer route from her brother Rickey. Normally, The Herald does not have paper carriers under 11 years old.

A fifth grade student at Mound Street School, she has passed The Herald along Mound Street since last summer.

Money she earned from the route was used to purchase Christmas presents this year.

Jean's hobby is roller skating.

Baboon Shines On Telephone

CAPE TOWN, South Africa (AP) — Subscribers at Kloof Nek Forest were left to wonder about the new bug in the telephone system when bells rang for no reason and some heard only barks, growls and sucking sounds.

A baboon had got into the unattended exchange. It pulled instructions from the wall, pressed every button on the switchboard, spilt milk on the floor and finally ate the only pen of operator Michael Anhauser who had left for a few minutes. "I don't know what to put in my report," Anhauser said.

POW Release, Withdrawal Date Linked, Hope Says

PHU BAI, Vietnam (AP) — Comedian Bob Hope said a North Vietnamese official told him that American prisoners of war would be released "tomorrow" if President Nixon sets a date for total U.S. withdrawal from Vietnam.

Hope, giving additional details today on his 90-minute talk Thursday with Nguyen Van Thanh, first secretary of the North Vietnamese Embassy in Vientiane, Laos, said:

"We had a long talk about several things. It always came back to the prisoners would be released tomorrow if President Nixon would abide by the seven-point proposal advanced by the North Vietnamese last July."

The seven-point peace plan was advanced by the Communist side at the Paris talks last July 1, and has been rejected by the Nixon administration.

Bhutto Continues Shakeup; Mrs. Gandhi Raps America

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

President Zulfikar Ali Bhutto tightened his grip on Pakistan Friday by naming an 11-member, leftist-oriented cabinet drawn mainly from his powerful Pakistan Peoples Party.

In India, Prime Minister Indira Gandhi warned that her government would not tolerate meddling by world powers in the India-Pakistan dispute. Although she mentioned no country by name, her remarks were widely interpreted as directed against the United States.

Bhutto, who took power five days ago from the military regime of Gen. Agha Mohammed Yahya Khan, retained the key portfolios of defense, foreign affairs, interior and intra-provincial affairs, indicating he would take day-to-day charge of his nation's campaign to win back East Pakistan, lost in the 14-day war with India.

The Pakistani president also announced he would appoint a commission of inquiry to look into the causes of the war.

Five of the new cabinet ministers were drawn from the West Pakistani province of Punjab where Bhutto's party is strong and only three of the ministers, including Vice President Nurul Amin, did not belong to the Pakistan Peoples Party.

Amin, 78, is the only East Pakistani in the cabinet. However, Bhutto said he plans to name at least three more ministers, including an East Pakistani.

Mrs. Gandhi, speaking in the Indian state of Punjab, was quoted by the government radio as saying her country's victory had "upset the calculations of some powers."

"There have been attempts at interference by some powers and India will not tolerate it," Mrs. Gandhi said. She added that she was not making a threat, but that she would not

Dogs Aid Police To Search Buildings

The department presently employs nine dogs.

The University of Northern Colorado has a 13-story high rise dormitory in operation.

Decoy Lawmen

Street crime has become so serious a problem in the United States it affects nearly everyone in one way or another. The most alarming aspect of it is it continues to grow nationally regardless of how much money and manpower are thrown into the fight against it.

Yet some police approaches to this type of crime are showing successes. One of these is the decoy. Now employed in many of the larger cities, the decoy simply presents himself as a prospective victim and waits for the attackers to make their move.

Last June, Chicago police formed a decoy unit to concentrate on robberies occurring on the city's mass transit system. The basic technique is for an officer to pretend he is drunk and wait for a predator to come along and rob him. At that point, the rest of his team springs out from hiding to make the arrest.

The beauty of the decoy is that the would-be robber almost always is caught redhanded and almost never gets away. Publicity given the decoy system also seems to act as a deterrent. Comparing the robbery incidents for the 20 weeks before the decoy system went into effect with the 20 week following showed satisfying results.

Citizen robberies before were 345, after 272. Arrests were 31 before and 97 after. Eighty-nine of the 97 were made by decoy officers. Thus, incidents of this particular crime dropped 21 per cent after the decoys went to work, and arrests rose more than 200 per cent.

That is the kind of crime news most citizens would like to read more often.

Cancer Approach

In what at times seemed like a highly emotional debate over a question which was largely academic, House and Senate conferees have finally reached agreement on the strategy to be employed in a stepped-up fight against cancer. The two branches were in agreement that greater federal assistance should be given the overall effort. The only question was one of method.

The Senate had argued for a new, independent agency, on the theory that a totally new effort might be able to produce a major breakthrough. It was an approach similar to the nation's efforts to land a man on the moon.

In the final showdown the conferees opted for the House version, which is to keep the Cancer Institute within the structure of the National Institutes of Health.

There is considerable doubt that cancer is the kind of challenge which is going to respond to a dramatic drive toward a single breakthrough. All indications to date are that it is a many-sided disease, with eventual conquest coming one piece at a time.

Now that the question of who has been decided, the Cancer Institute and its sister NIH affiliates can get to the basics of how the expanded battle is to be waged.

Productivity Bargaining

By JOHN CHAMBERLAIN

Productivity studies used to be an American specialty. The name of Frederick W. Taylor, an athlete who studied anatomy to make his pitching motion more effective and then went on to show hundreds of American industries how they could combine men and machines into the "one right way to do a thing," was known to everybody who had to handle men in factories. But during the long period of our inflationary euphoria, which has lasted for more than 30 years, Frederick Taylor has been pretty well forgotten. It has been too easy for management to sign any old collective bargaining agreement that would avoid a strike and then add the inflated labor cost into price without worrying about efficiency. The politicians could always be counted on to flush the money supply to move the more costly goods off the market. "Productivity bargaining" has been out.

Suddenly, however, the collapse of the dollar has brought it home to Americans that there should be more than lip service to productivity. In a farewell address James Roche, the soon-to-be retired head of General Motors, laments that the output per man hour in the U.S. has been increasing at a low rate of 2.1 per cent per year while it has been rising at a 5.3 figure in West Germany and at a 14.2 per cent miracle jump in Japan. No wonder that the foreigner is taking out markets, both abroad and at home.

Revaluation of currencies won't get to the root of the troubles if the attitudes we have been nursing ever since the 1930s persist. E. G. Fremont, Jr., chairman of the board of The Emerson Consultants, has, in a notable paper soon to be published, pointed out that management's attitude toward collective bargaining has been totally defeatist. The company side of the bargaining is usually left to somebody with a "social worker" mentality. As a sociologist, not a productivity man, his main desire is to keep labor "happy" without disturbing conventional practices. In short, he is a professional loser who calls it a good bargain if he can just whittle down the more extreme union demands. Knowing this, the unions always ask for something more than they expect to get.

The British, who began to go slack even before the United States, found themselves bogged down in a peacetime wage-and-price control mess some time ago. With their feet to the fire, some British companies have turned to true productivity bargaining. Esso's British refining affiliate began it by looking at a score of ancient work practices that had become hallowed by custom. It discovered that, if the unions would agree to eliminating featherbedding of one sort or another, get rid of sacred cows, and permit the retraining of unnecessary personnel to do really necessary things, management could actually volunteer pay increases. This pointed to "two-way bargaining," which is something we haven't seen in more than a generation.

The Esso discoveries have been elaborated in something called the Fawley Blue Book. True productivity bargaining is not necessarily tied to any deadline or contract renegotiation on the hallowed "collective bargaining" pattern. It can be a continuing thing as shop practice changes, the machinery is bought, and excess workers are retrained for other jobs.

When both sides are willing to accept the implications of new technology and to discuss sharing the benefits of eficiency, a new bargaining climate replaces the old. It is no longer a business of giving "labor" everything it asks and then saddling the cost on the customer. In the new climate inflation can be brought under control.

To change the climate, however, our big companies will have to infuse productivity men into their "industrial relations" departments. Social workers aren't enough. And the unions themselves will have to take an interest in trying to cooperate with their "bosses" in finding ways to make industry more productive. Can this be done? Maybe we need to dispatch some work parties to England to see how British Oxygen, Alcan Industries, I.C.I. and Esso Petroleum Ltd. are doing with "productivity bargaining." It is a terrible commentary when the country of Frederick Taylor has to go abroad for productivity study instruction, but this is what happens when prophets are dishonored in their own land.

Will Visit Poland

MUNICH (AP) — Julius Cardinal Doepfner, archbishop of Munich and Freising, has accepted an invitation to visit Poland sometime in 1972.

The Cardinal, chairman of the German Bishops Conference, was invited by the Polish bishops at the Rome ceremony in which Pope Paul VI blessed Padre Maximilian Kolbe, the Polish priest who perished in Auschwitz.

Horoscope Forecast

By Carroll Righter

TUESDAY'S HOROSCOPE

GENERAL TENDENCIES: A day and evening which are not very important, but still good for making real progress towards getting rid of a multitude of odds and ends which could be very much in your way during the coming year unless you do get them behind you now. Be less fixed in your views. Listen to others.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19)

Use system in handling all those annoying small tasks that have to be gotten behind you before you can enjoy the holiday ahead. Consult an expert if you are in doubt about some important matter. Think.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20)

If you entertain royally one who can be of great help to you in the future, you get immediate cooperation. Find items that will make your life more interesting. Meet people who are fascinating, also.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21)

Delve into all those personal interests that have to be handled without further procrastination. Use your ingenuity and make new arrangements that improve the tone of your life. Think far ahead.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21)

Now is the time to reach either understanding with others by doing favors they have requested, or you feel they need. Accept invitations from others, since they can bring unexpectedly fine results. Don't be so standoffish.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21)

You have certain tasks that are hardly fun, but need doing just the same, so get at them early. Following every rule and regulation that applies to you is important. Do not take any chances.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22)

Studying into some new plan or small details of one already in operation brings the results you want now. Make new contacts who can alleviate the dull hours of your living. Choose friends wisely.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22)

Instead of worrying about all those accumulated tasks awaiting you, get busy at them and they are soon behind you. Then you have time to look into new interests as well. Follow intuitions for best results.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21)

You are able now to discharge those obligations and promises you have made. Everyone will be immensely pleased and you will benefit therefrom. Discussions with others are fine, but not arguments. Tone down your voice.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21)

If you labor consistently, you can get all those tasks ahead of the way in a remarkably efficient manner. Don't give in to that temptation to go off on some tangent, for others, especially family, will be upset. Show you are dependable.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20)

If you do something to make yourself look and feel more dynamic, you find you have more success both in social and business life. Take care of personal matters, problems wisely and quickly. Take that chip off your shoulder.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19)

Home and family should be first on the agenda now, and even while out for business affairs think how to improve all at home in spare moments. Don't be so critical of kin. There isn't much to worry about where conduct is concerned.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20)

You will get good results from discussing with associates ways to have greater success and harmony in the future. Being more willing to work harder is wise. Start at those small tasks quickly and get them behind you.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY ... he or she will be one of those delightful young people who even while young likes to mull everything over so much that nothing is really accomplished because of the inability to come to a decision on time. So be sure to give the right training to teach the importance of time in the scheme of life. Then this becomes a successful life, since there is certainly the ability to persevere in this nature. Proper diet and religious training necessary while young. Music, law and the ministry are find here.

"The Stars impel, they do not compel." What you make of your life is largely up to YOU!

TODAY In History

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Today is Monday, Dec. 27, the 361st day of 1971. There are four days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history:

On this date in 1949, Queen Juliana of the Netherlands signed a document granting Indonesia sovereignty after more than three centuries of Dutch rule.

On this date:

In 1571, the pioneer German astronomer, Johannes Kepler, was born in Wurttemberg.

In 1822, the Frenchman known as the founder of preventive medicine, Louis Pasteur, was born.

In 1900, the prohibitionist, Carrie Nation, staged her first raid on a saloon, smashing all the bottles she could get her hands on in a Wichita, Kan., bar.

In 1932, Radio City Music Hall in New York opened.

In 1944, in World War II, American forces smashed across the German bulge in Belgium and relieved U. S. troops under siege at Bastogne.

Ten years ago: Indian Prime Minister Jawaharlal Nehru defended India against Western criticism of the use of force to take over Goa and two other enclaves in India from Portugal.

Five years ago: A rally of 100,000 Red Guards in Peking denounced China's President Liu Shao-chi.

One year ago: Indian Prime Minister Indira Gandhi dissolved the India's Parliament and ordered early national elections.

Japanese Beetle Curbs Extended

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) —

The regulated area under the Japanese Beetle quarantine has been extended into 15 more Ohio counties, Ohio Agriculture Director Gene R. Abercrombie reported today.

The extension includes for the first time these counties: Allen, Champaign, Defiance, Delaware, Logan, Madison, Morrow, Union, Williams and Waynes. These counties are to be regulated in their entirety. Counties to become partially regulated for the first time include Clark and Montgomery.

The metallic green adult beetles, which are of foreign origin, become abundant in central Ohio in mid-July and disappear by late August.

HORSE-DRAWN HEARSE — Mrs. Angelina Mazzella was buried according to the specification of her will: that her body be taken to church by a horse-drawn hearse.

View is of the hearse in the heart of South Brooklyn, New York, headed to the church.

Swiss Watchmakers Teach Skills To People Of Nigeria

By BAYO ROTIBI

Associated Press Writer

LAGOS, Nigeria (AP) —

Switzerland's legendary watchmakers are doing their best to get people to their appointments on time in Nigeria.

It's all happening at the College of Technology in suburban Yaba, where a Swiss-run school is turning out some of Africa's best watchmakers.

The school was founded in 1964 after Nigeria accepted an offer by the Swiss watch industry to establish a school of horology, complete with facilities for timepiece assembly, repair and maintenance.

Switzerland's two giant watchmaking bodies — the Federation of Swiss Watch Manufacturers and the F. H. Ebauches S.A. — which embrace over 2,000 Swiss watch manufacturers with an annual output of over 65 million watches, run the school free.

The Swiss watch industry

provides tools, equipment and spare parts, Swiss chief instructor, and provides $14,000 for general administration each year.

The school's 31 students all are on Swiss government scholarships totaling $30,800.

"Everything here is free," says chief instructor E. Angehrn, an amiable Swiss expert with 22 years experience. "Our level of instruction is high and firms which have hired our people know they have got the best."

Because boarding and tuition are free, the school is flooded each year with applications. Last year over 180 applications were received. Sixty qualified to take an intensive aptitude test, and the lucky dozen who scored highest were selected to begin the three-year course.

The student body this year comprises 25 Nigerians, two Liberians, two Gambians, one

Sierra Leonean and one Ghanaian. Each first-year student gets $112 for room and board, $14 for student union fees and tuition, $23 allowance and $5 transport fee. For the next two years, the allowance is increased.

Each graduating student is given a Swiss watch industry diploma and a complete set of tools worth $616. Many find jobs with Lagos watch dealers, and some have started their own businesses and employ apprentices.

DECEMBER, 1936

36 YEARS AGO

George B. Armstrong, 85, one of the organizers of the Adelphi Banking Co. and its president since 1922, died at his home in Salt Creek Twp. near Laurelville. Mr. Armstrong had been ill less than two weeks, his fatal ailment starting when he fell in a barn and suffered shock and bruises.

Addie Thorne Squire, Ashville, purchased approximately 186 acres of Scioto Twp. land sold by sheriff's auction in her partition suit against Jacob R. Thorne and others. The property included four tracts with appraisals ranging from $40 to $75 an acre which she bought for a total price of $9,060 or about two-thirds the appraised value.

Ed Helwigen and his son Bud, Circleville, James Tootle of near Kinnickinnick and Paul Dickson, Roy Beatty and Guy Pettit, returned from Potter County, Pennsylvania after a deer hunt. The party killed four deer. They also reported 20 inches of snow in the area of their hunt.

City councilmen sought a "curfew bell" for Circleville. Fire Chief Talmer Wise informed city fathers in the interest of safety he did not like the idea of ringing the fire bell, which had been used to chime the curfew. Some suggested Container Corporation blow its whistle or use the chimes in the courthouse, or use an old market bell owned by the city. The bell that had chimed the curfew years ago had been given by an earlier council to the AME Church.

Youngsters could receive free a "google eye balloon" by having Mother buy two cans of Morton's Salt while the limited supply lasted. By twirling the stick to which the novel balloon was attached, a child could make the balloon's eyes go around and around.

Among students returning home for the holidays were William Crist, Joe Bell, Elsie Ann Brehmer, Fred Grant, Don O. White and Elsie Udyke of Ohio University, Athens.

Miss Charlotte Phelps, Circleville's public health nurse for 24 years, died in Berger Hospital at the age of 68. She came to Circleville in 1912 to assume the district health nurse position from Cleveland.

Thurman Miller, W. Main St. radio repairman, investigated a report from a local resident that his radio refused to work. Miller removed the radio from the man's place of business and took it to his repair shop and opened it to discover a huge rat in the radio "works."

Miller had to replace a number of wires which the rat had chewed and cleaned out a lot of paper it stuffed inside.

They'll Do It Every Time

Decoy Lawmen

Street crime has become so serious a problem in the United States it affects nearly everyone in one way or another. The most alarming aspect of it is it continues to grow nationally regardless of how much money and manpower are thrown into the fight against it.

Yet some police approaches to this type of crime are showing successes. One of these is the decoy. Now employed in many of the larger cities, the decoy simply presents himself as a prospective victim and waits for the attackers to make their move.

Last June, Chicago police formed a decoy unit to concentrate on robberies occurring on the city's mass transit system. The basic technique is for an officer to pretend he is drunk and wait for a predator to come along and rob him. At that point, the rest of his team springs out from hiding to make the arrest.

The beauty of the decoy is that the would-be robber almost always is caught redhanded and almost never gets away. Publicity given the decoy system also seems to act as a deterrent. Comparing the robbery incidents for the 20 weeks before the decoy system went into effect with the 20 week following showed satisfying results.

Citizen robberies before were 345, after 272. Arrests were 31 before and 97 after. Eighty-nine of the 97 were made by decoy officers. Thus, incidents of this particular crime dropped 21 per cent after the decoys went to work, and arrests rose more than 200 per cent.

That is the kind of crime news most citizens would like to read more often.

Cancer Approach

In what at times seemed like a highly emotional debate over a question which was largely academic, House and Senate conferees have finally reached agreement on the strategy to be employed in a stepped-up fight against cancer. The two branches were in agreement that greater federal assistance should be given the overall effort. The only question was one of method.

The Senate had argued for a new, independent agency, on the theory that a totally new effort might be able to produce a major breakthrough. It was an approach similar to the nation's efforts to land a man on the moon.

In the final showdown the conferees opted for the House version, which is to keep the Cancer Institute within the structure of the National Institutes of Health.

There is considerable doubt that cancer is the kind of challenge which is going to respond to a dramatic drive toward a single breakthrough. All indications to date are that it is a many-sided disease, with eventual conquest coming one piece at a time.

Now that the question of who has been decided, the Cancer Institute and its sister NIH affiliates can get to the basics of how the expanded battle is to be waged.

Productivity Bargaining

By JOHN CHAMBERLAIN

Productivity studies used to be an American specialty. The name of Frederick W. Taylor, an athlete who studied anatomy to make his pitching motion more effective and then went on to show hundreds of American industries how they could combine men and machines into the "one right way to do a thing," was known to everybody who had to handle men in factories. But during the long period of our inflationary euphoria, which has lasted for more than 30 years, Frederick Taylor has been pretty well forgotten. It has been too easy for management to sign any old collective bargaining agreement that would avoid a strike and then add the inflated labor cost into price without worrying about efficiency. The politicians could always be counted on to flush the money supply to move the more costly goods off the market. "Productivity bargaining" has been out.

Suddenly, however, the collapse of the dollar has brought it home to Americans that there should be more than lip service to productivity. In a farewell address James Roche, the soon-to-be retired head of General Motors, laments that the output per man hour in the U.S. has been increasing at a low rate of 2.1 per cent per year while it has been rising at a 5.3 figure in West Germany and at a 14.2 per cent miracle jump in Japan. No wonder that the foreigner is taking out markets, both abroad and at home.

Revaluation of currencies won't get to the root of the troubles if the attitudes we have been nursing ever since the 1930s persist. E. G. Fremont, Jr., chairman of the board of The Emerson Consultants, has, in a notable paper soon to be published, pointed out that management's attitude toward collective bargaining has been totally defeatist. The company side of the bargaining is usually left to somebody with a "social worker" mentality. As a sociologist, not a productivity man, his main desire is to keep labor "happy" without disturbing conventional practices. In short, he is a professional loser who calls it a good bargain if he can just whittle down the more extreme union demands. Knowing this, the unions always ask for something more than they expect to get.

The British, who began to go slack even before the United States, found themselves bogged down in a peacetime wage-and-price control mess some time ago. With their feet to the fire, some British companies have turned to true productivity bargaining. Esso's British refining affiliate began it by looking at a score of ancient work practices that had become hallowed by custom. It discovered that, if the unions would agree to eliminating featherbedding of one sort or another, get rid of sacred cows, and permit the retraining of unnecessary personnel to do really necessary things, management could actually volunteer pay increases. This pointed to "two-way bargaining," which is something we haven't seen in more than a generation.

The Esso discoveries have been elaborated in something called the Fawley Blue Book. True productivity bargaining is not necessarily tied to any deadline or contract renegotiation on the hallowed "collective bargaining" pattern. It can be a continuing thing as shop practice changes, the machinery is bought, and excess workers are retrained for other jobs.

When both sides are willing to accept the implications of new technology and to discuss sharing the benefits of eficiency, a new bargaining climate replaces the old. It is no longer a business of giving "labor" everything it asks and then saddling the cost on the customer. In the new climate inflation can be brought under control.

To change the climate, however, our big companies will have to infuse productivity men into their "industrial relations" departments. Social workers aren't enough. And the unions themselves will have to take an interest in trying to cooperate with their "bosses" in finding ways to make industry more productive. Can this be done? Maybe we need to dispatch some work parties to England to see how British Oxygen, Alcan Industries, I.C.I. and Esso Petroleum Ltd. are doing with "productivity bargaining." It is a terrible commentary when the country of Frederick Taylor has to go abroad for productivity study instruction, but this is what happens when prophets are dishonored in their own land.

Will Visit Poland

MUNICH (AP) — Julius Cardinal Doepfner, archbishop of Munich and Freising, has accepted an invitation to visit Poland sometime in 1972.

The Cardinal, chairman of the German Bishops Conference, was invited by the Polish bishops at the Rome ceremony in which Pope Paul VI blessed Padre Maximilian Kolbe, the Polish priest who perished in Auschwitz.

TUESDAY'S HOROSCOPE

GENERAL TENDENCIES: A day and evening which are not very important, but still good for making real progress towards getting rid of a multitude of odds and ends which could be very much in your way during the coming year unless you do get them behind you now. Be less fixed in your views. Listen to others.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) Use system in handling all those annoying small tasks that have to be gotten behind you before you can enjoy the holiday ahead. Consult an expert if you are in doubt about some important matter. Think.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20) If you entertain royally one who can be of great help to you in the future, you get immediate cooperation. Find items that will make your life more interesting. Meet people who are fascinating, also.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) Delve into all those personal interests that have to be handled without further procrastination. Use your ingenuity and make new arrangements that improve the tone of your life. Think far ahead.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) Now is the time to reach better understanding with others by doing favors they have requested, or you feel they need. Accept invitations from others, since they can bring unexpectedly fine results. Don't be so standoffish.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) You have certain tasks that are hardly fun, but need doing just the same, so get at them early. Following every rule and regulation that applies to you is important. Do not take any chances.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) Studying into some new plan or small details of one already in operation brings the results you want now. Make new contacts who can alleviate the dull hours of your living. Choose friends wisely.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) Instead of worrying about all those accumulated tasks awaiting you, get busy at them and they are soon behind you. Then you have time to look into new interests as well. Follow intuitions for best results.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) You are able now to discharge those obligations and promises you have made. Everyone will be immensely pleased and you will benefit therefrom. Discussions with others are fine, but not arguments. Tone down your voice.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) If you labor consistently, you can get all those tasks ahead of the way in a remarkably efficient manner. Don't give in to that temptation to go off on some tangent, for others, especially family, will be upset. Show you are dependable.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) If you do something to make yourself look and feel more dynamic, you find you have more success both in social and business life. Take care of personal matters, problems wisely and quickly. Take that chip off your shoulder.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) Home and family should be first on the agenda now, and even while out for business affairs think how to improve all at home in spare moments. Don't be so critical of kin. There isn't much to worry about where conduct is concerned.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) You will get good results from discussing with associates ways to have greater success and harmony in the future. Being more willing to work harder is wise. Start at those small tasks quickly and get them behind you.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY... he or she will be one of those delightful young people who even while young likes to mull everything over so much that nothing is really accomplished because of the inability to come to a decision on time. So be sure to give the right training to teach the importance of time in the scheme of life. Then this becomes a successful life, since there is certainly the ability to persevere in this nature. Proper diet and religious training necessary while young. Music, law and the ministry are find here.

"The Stars impel, they do not compel." What you make of your life is largely up to YOU!

TODAY In History

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Today is Monday, Dec. 27, the 361st day of 1971. There are four days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history: On this date in 1949, Queen Juliana of the Netherlands signed a document granting Indonesia sovereignty after more than three centuries of Dutch rule.

On this date: In 1571, the pioneer German astronomer, Johannes Kepler, was born in Wurttemberg.

In 1822, the Frenchman known as the founder of preventive medicine, Louis Pasteur, was born.

In 1900, the prohibitionist, Carrie Nation, staged her first raid on a saloon, smashing all the bottles she could get her hands on in a Wichita, Kan., bar.

In 1932, Radio City Music Hall in New York opened.

In 1944, in World War II, American forces smashed across the German bulge in Belgium and relieved U.S. troops under siege at Bastogne.

Ten years ago: Indian Prime Minister Jawaharlal Nehru defended India against Western criticism of the use of force to take over Goa and two other enclaves in India from Portugal.

Five years ago: A rally of 100,000 Red Guards in Peking denounced China's President Liu Shao-chi.

One year ago: Indian Prime Minister Indira Gandhi dissolved the India's Parliament and ordered early national elections.

Japanese Beetle Curbs Extended

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The regulated area under the Japanese Beetle quarantine has been extended into 15 more Ohio counties, Ohio Agriculture Director Gene R. Abercrombie reported today.

The extension includes for the first time these counties: Allen, Champaign, Defiance, Delaware, Greene, Hardin, Highland, Logan, Madison, Morrow, Union, Williams and Waynot. These counties are to be regulated in their entirety. Counties to become partially regulated for the first time include Clark and Montgomery.

The metallic green adult beetles which are of foreign origin, become abundant in central Ohio in mid-July and disappear by late August.

HORSE-DRAWN HEARSE — Mrs. Angelina Mazzella was buried according to the specification of her will: that her body be taken to church by a horse-drawn hearse.

View is of the hearse in the heart of South Brooklyn, New York, headed to the church.

Swiss Watchmakers Teach Skills To People Of Nigeria

By BAYO ROTIBI

Associated Press Writer
LAGOS, Nigeria (AP) — Switzerland's legendary watchmakers are doing their best to get people to their appointments on time in Nigeria.

It's all happening at the College of Technology in suburban Yaba, where a Swiss-run school is turning out some of Africa's best watchmakers.

The school was founded in 1964 after Nigeria accepted an offer by the Swiss watch industry to establish a school of horology, complete with facilities for timepiece assembly, repair and maintenance.

Switzerland's two giant watchmaking bodies — the Federation of Swiss Watch Manufacturers and the F. H. Ebauches S.A. — which embrace over 2,000 Swiss watch manufacturers with an annual output of over 65 million watches, run the school free.

The Swiss watch industry

provides tools, equipment and spare parts. Swiss chief instructor, and provides $14,000 for general administration each year.

The school's 31 students all are on Swiss government scholarships totaling $30,800.

"Everything here is free," says chief instructor E. Angehrn, an amiable Swiss expert with 22 years experience. "Our level of instruction is high and firms which have hired our people know they have got the best."

Because boarding and tuition are free, the school is flooded each year with applications. Last year over 180 applications were received. Sixty qualified to take an intensive aptitude test, and the lucky dozen who scored highest were selected to begin the three-year course.

The student body this year comprises 25 Nigerians, two Liberians, two Gambians, one

Sierra Leonean and one Ghanaian. Each first-year student gets $112 for room and board, $14 for student union fees and tuition, $23 allowance and $5 transport fee. For the next two years, the allowance is increased.

Each graduating student is given a Swiss watch industry diploma and a complete set of tools worth $616. Many find jobs with Lagos watch dealers, and some have started their own businesses and employ apprentices.

School expansion is inhibited because there is no watch assembly plant in Nigeria. "It is not good to give them training for three years and after that fail to find them jobs," Angehrn says. "I feel responsible for the students and so I like to find them convenient employment when they leave here, mostly with watch dealers in town."

ZANESVILLE — Robert Gailen Riley, 21, Middlebranch, when his car crashed off U.S. 22 west of Zanesville.
DELAWARE — John McCabe, 16, and Thomas Julius, 16, both of Columbus, when the car in which they were riding was struck broadside by another auto on U.S. 23 near here.

SUNDAY
CINCINNATI — Mary F. Kelam, 33, Cincinnati, when her car struck a utility pole on a Cincinnati street.

Kennedy Leads Poll

PRINCETON, N.J. (AP) — margin of 34 per cent to 31 per cent.
Sen. Edward M. Kennedy of Massachusetts is the leading choice of registered Democratic voters for the party's presidential nomination, the latest Gallup Poll shows.
Sen. Edmund S. Muskie of Maine was listed as second, and Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey of Minnesota, third.

But if Kennedy, stays out of the race, a second Gallup Poll shows Humphrey leading Muskie.
Kennedy, who has repeatedly said he is not a candidate, was the choice of 32 per cent of some 560 Democrats polled in more than 250 communities from Dec. 10 to 13. Muskie drew 25 per cent and Humphrey 19 per cent.

But with Kennedy out of the race, the second poll showed Humphrey leading Muskie by a

Find Body In Airplane

CHICAGO (AP) — The body of an unidentified man was found late Sunday in the nose wheel well of a Delta Airlines jet-prop air freighter shortly after it landed at O'Hare International Airport on a flight from Atlanta.
Police said the man may have crawled into the well as a stowaway in Atlanta.
He was described as being about 40 and dressed in a white coverall and vest. A search of the body yielded a letter addressed only to "Bob."

When asked if the man could have been a Delta mechanic, an airline spokesman in Atlanta said none of its employees was missing. The spokesman also said Delta mechanics wear grey coveralls.

Police theorized that the man may have died of oxygen starvation or exposure, or he may have been crushed to death by the retracting landing gear after takeoff.

Scioto Society Receives Cash Gift From Goodyear

The Scioto Society received a $6,000 boost for its project to build an amphitheatre in the hills of Ross County which would become the home of an epic drama on the early life in the Scioto River Valley.
Charles D. Tabor, general manager of the Good year Atomic Corporation of Piketon, presented last week to Dr. Roscoe E. Swartz Jr., general chairman of the Scioto Society Development fund, a check for $6,000.

The check was presented in behalf of the Goodyear Tire and Rubber Co. of Akron as their contribution to the production of the historic outdoor drama, "Tecumseh!" which is currently scheduled to premier in June, 1973.

In presenting the gift, Tabor expressed his enthusiastic support of the Society's endeavor. The gift, he said, was presented by the Goodyear Tire and Rubber Company because of their continuing interest in the establishment of cultural outlets for their employees and for the citizens of the community. He said it was the desire of his organization that the money be used in the best way to promote the amphitheatre and The Scioto Society.

JOHN S. Hamilton, who serves as co-chairman of the industrial division of the Society's development fund, hailed Goodyear's active interest in the cultural development of the community.

In accepting the gift for The Scioto Society, Dr. Swartz expressed the deep gratitude of the Society, saying he felt such gifts from industry served as guideposts for the citizens of region. Noting that the Goodyear Atomic Corporation was located approximately thirty miles from the amphitheatre site, Dr. Swartz felt that the interest and depth of understanding shown by Tabor and his associates underscored the regional scope of the Scioto Society's undertaking.

Kennedy Leads Poll

PRINCETON, N.J. (AP) — margin of 34 per cent to 31 per cent.

Sen. Edward M. Kennedy of Massachusetts is the leading choice of registered Democratic voters for the party's presidential nomination, the latest Gallup Poll shows.

Sen. Edmund S. Muskie of Maine was listed as second, and Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey of Minnesota, third.

But if Kennedy, stays out of the race, a second Gallup Poll shows Humphrey leading Muskie.

Kennedy, who has repeatedly said he is not a candidate, was the choice of 32 per cent of some 560 Democrats polled in more than 250 communities from Dec. 10 to 13. Muskie drew 25 per cent and Humphrey 19 per cent.

But with Kennedy out of the race, the second poll showed Humphrey leading Muskie by a

Find Body In Airplane

CHICAGO (AP) — The body of an unidentified man was found late Sunday in the nose wheel well of a Delta Airlines jet-prop air freighter shortly after it landed at O'Hare International Airport on a flight from Atlanta.

Police said the man may have crawled into the well as a stowaway in Atlanta.

He was described as being about 40 and dressed in a white coverall and vest. A search of the body yielded a letter addressed only to "Bob."

When asked if the man could have been a Delta mechanic, an airline spokesman in Atlanta said none of its employees was missing. The spokesman also said Delta mechanics wear grey coveralls.

Police theorized that the man may have died of oxygen starvation or exposure, or he may have been crushed to death by the retracting landing gear after takeoff.

PRESENTATION — A formal delegation of officials from both the Goodyear Tire and Rubber Co. and The Scioto Society were on hand last week for presentation of a check for $6,000 which was donated to the Society's effort to give the inhabitants of the Scioto River Valley an historical drama on the life of the early settlers and the Indian chief, Tecumseh. Shown from left to right are: Lloyd Fuller, Manager of Industrial Relations, Goodyear Atomic Corp.; Charles D. Tabor, General Manager, Goodyear Atomic Corporation; John S.

Hamilton, co-chairman, industrial division, Scioto Society Development Fund Drive; Dr. Roscoe Swartz Jr., general chairman, Scioto Society Development Fund Drive; Robert B. Boye, Asst. General Manager, Goodyear; Nate Hurt, Engineering Manager, Goodyear.

Scioto Society Receives Cash Gift From Goodyear

The Scioto Society received a $6,000 boost for its project to build an amphitheatre in the hills of Ross County which would become the home of an epic drama on the early life in the Scioto River Valley.

Charles D. Tabor, general manager of the Good year Atomic Corporation of Piketon, presented last week to Dr. Roscoe E. Swartz Jr., general chairman of the Scioto Society Development fund, a check for $6,000.

The check was presented in behalf of the Goodyear Tire and Rubber Co. of Akron as their contribution to the production of the historic outdoor drama, "Tecumseh!" which is currently scheduled to premier in June, 1973.

In presenting the gift, Tabor expressed his enthusiastic support of the Society's endeavor. The gift, he said, was presented by the Goodyear Tire and Rubber Company because of their continuing interest in the establishment of cultural outlets for their employees and for the citizens of the community. He said it was the desire of his organization that the money be used in the best way to promote the amphitheatre and The Scioto Society.

JOHN S. Hamilton, who serves as co-chairman of the industrial division of the Society's development fund, hailed Goodyear's active interest in the cultural development of the community.

In accepting the gift for The Scioto Society, Dr. Swartz expressed the deep gratitude of the Society, saying he felt such gifts from industry served as guideposts for the citizens of region. Noting that the Goodyear Atomic Corporation was located approximately thirty miles from the amphitheatre site, Dr. Swartz felt that the interest and depth of understanding shown by Tabor and his associates underscored the regional scope of the Scioto Society's undertaking.

MRS. JAMES LLOYD JOHNSTON

Miss Rosalinda Lorene Wilson and Mr. James Lloyd Johnston were united in marriage 2:30 p.m., Saturday, Dec. 18th at the Pinehurst Baptist Church, Columbus, Ga., with the Rev. Richard A. Hearn performing the ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert C. Wilson, Columbus, Ga. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph L. Johnston of Laurelville, Ohio.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was attired in a floor length empire gown of white satin with lace appliques at the waistline, streaming down the front and encircling the bottom of the skirt. The bodice featured an oval neckline and long sleeves ended in bridal points over her hands. A chapel length train fastened at the back waistline with a large white bow was gracefully accented with lace appliques. A tiara held her multi-tiered veil of illusion and she carried a bouquet of white daisies, gold mums and a streamer of yellow roses tied with long knotted streamers.

Mrs. Monica Dean of Columbus, Ga., was maid of honor. She was attired in a gold brocade pants suit and a shoulder length veil. She carried a colonial bouquet of white daisies and gold mums.

The groom chose his brother, Mr. Terry Johnston, as best man. Ushers were Mr. Curtis Wilson, brother of the bride, and Mr. Michael Johnston, brother of the bridegroom.

Mrs. Wilson selected for her daughter's wedding a leaf green

Auto Show Set In NY Coliseum

NEW YORK (AP) — The 16th International Automobile Show will be held in the New York Coliseum next April 1-9, show president Charles Snitow has announced.

Snitow says the New York area accounted for almost 25 per cent of the total U.S. car market for imported cars in 1970. The total sales were 138,496 imports. New York's five boroughs produced 31,921 sales while 106,675 imports were sold in the northern New Jersey suburbs, Long Island, Rockland and Westchester counties of New York, and Fairfield County in Connecticut.

The evening was spent visiting with the patients under the direction of Mrs. Bess Simison who is serving her 16th year as Veterans Affairs and Rehabilitation chairman for the unit.

Mrs. Simison, on behalf of the unit, presented an electric razor to Mr. Patterson, nursing assistant for the ward, who accepted it in behalf of the veterans. He told the unit members how much their monthly visits meant to the veterans and thanked them for the gifts that are given to the men each year.

Mrs. Simison expressed her appreciation to members who donated items for the party. The monthly visits are made possible with Poppy Fund money collected each year on Poppy Day in Circleville.

Miss Marie L. Hamilton Presents DAR Program

Pickaway Plains Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution met at the Pickaway County Historical Museum meeting room on Tuesday. Mrs. Joseph Peters, regent, opened the chapter in ritualistic form, with Mrs. R. R. Bales, chaplain assisting. Mrs. Daniel Eitel, flag chairman, led the Pledge of Allegiance to the Flag of the United States of America, followed by the singing of the first stanza of "The Star Spangled Banner" with Mrs. Martin Cromley at the piano.

Mrs. Judd Dresbach, chairman of national defense, read Congressman John Rarick's views on "Child Development Program Federalize The United States Children." This is controversial matter. It did pass the House and Senate. The President vetoed the bill.

Mrs. Paul Cromley, corresponding secretary, read notes of appreciation to Mrs. Joseph Peters, regent and the Pickaway Plains Chapter for cooperation and assistance at the dedication of a marker for Mrs. James B. Patton, honorary President General U.S.D.A.R. Notes received were from Mrs. Holiday Ruggles of Franklinton Chapter, Mrs. Howard Van Atta of Cincinnati, honorary State Regent, Mrs. Ethel Galbraith of Marietta and Mrs. Donald Spicer, President General U.S.D.A.R.

Mrs. Peters, regent, thanked the chapter and all who helped with the tea. Mrs. Carter, wife of the November speaker, sent a note of appreciation to Mrs. Peters for an enjoyable evening. A note to Mrs. Judd Dresbach from Mrs. H. E. Kitzmiller, chairman of national defense, congratulating Mrs. Peters, regent and Pickaway Plains Chapter for their hospitality, especially commending Mrs. Peters for her graciousness when she visited the chapter in October.

The DAR Schools of Tamassee and Kate Duncan Smith are dear to the hearts of society members. This is the time of year, Mrs. Peters and Mrs. Croman reminded them, to bring contributions to the January meeting. All articles must be packed and sent before Feb. 1, 1972.

Mrs. Leora Sayre, chairman of junior American Citizens Committee, introduced two young members of Junior American Citizens, Alfred Heeter, president and Mae Johnson, secretary of Betsy Ross Junior American Citizens.

Preceding the chapter meeting DAR members were treated to an excellent Christmas musical program given by the Westfall Junior-Senior Chorus under the direction of Miss Rachel Ford.

Mrs. William Radcliff, chairman of American heritage committee, arranged for the musical program and the talk by Miss Hamilton on "Colonial Christmas At Williamsburg."

Miss Hamilton related her experience during a visit to Williamsburg at Christmas in 1965. Miss Hamilton reminds us that there is a waiting list, so if you wish to visit Williamsburg at Christmas time, you must send for reservations ahead of time.

Christmas is celebrated in Williamsburg today just as it was in Colonial Days. All the traditions are carried out in detail. A candle is placed in each window of houses in the residential area as well as in the windows of government buildings. In Colonial Days, the tallow candle was used. After many fires that destroyed buildings and fine old furniture, the tallow candles were replaced with the electric ones.

When you arrive at Williamsburg, you always go to the Information Center first to pick up reservations. Miss Hamilton related that a reception and Wassail Bowl Party was the first observance. It was held in the large lounge of the Information Center. A great log fire was roaring in the large fireplace. Hot Wassail Punch was served along with fruit cake. Fruit cake was served beginning Christmas Day until the 12th day of Christmas, then spice cake was used. On a great table in the lounge all kinds of delicacies were there for the guests to enjoy. Each guest was given a small sprig of green about the size of your thumb and forefinger. Guests were instructed to form a line and walk past the open fire into which each person tossed his sprig to rid oneself of sicknesses and evil. In Colonial Days and times far back in history, man believed in this sort of practice.

Following tradition, the doorways were decorated using magnolia leaves and fruit. A wreath on one of the doorways was made with magnolia leaves as background with real lemons placed around on it. Another doorway used the leaves and half a pineapple cut through from top to bottom. "Twas a pretty sight to behold" quoted Miss Hamilton.

A committee of one is placed in charge of decorations. A strict account is made as to what and where and of what the decorations were made. Next-year the same kind of material will be used in a different way and place.

In the Governor's Mansion the authentic furniture was beautiful in its own right, but when enhanced with Christmas decorations, it was a memorable sight. In the center a table with a large bowl was heaped high with fruits, apples, oranges, grapes, nuts and occasionally topped with a whole pineapple. Sometimes ornamental epergnes were filled with small fruits, candies and flowers. The large tables here in the mansion, like the one at the Information Center, were filled with all those delicious delicacies for the guests. Wassail Punch was served here too. Wassail Punch really had a punch in it for the individual who might imbibe too freely of it, Miss Hamilton explained.

Christmas Services were held at "Old Bruton Church." This is an Episcopal Church. Its ritualistic services are impressive. The priest uses one pulpit for the first part of the services then proceeds to the second one for the second part, then he ascends to the high pulpit. In Colonial times they had no loud speakers or microphones. There were gentlemen living then as now. So they made a sounding board which was suspended from the ceiling above the priest's head. He had no trouble being heard. When the services were over the pastor led the congregation out from the church two by two each participant carrying a candle which he lighted from another candle held by another person at the aisle. The congregation marched around on the walk to a building at the rear of the church.

At the Inn guests were served Christmas Dinner. When you were seated the college boy waiters placed a large napkin (1 yd. sq.) around your neck and tied it securely.

All hosts, hostesses, waiters, waitresses and news criers were dressed in the style of the Colonial Day such as Washington, Adams, Jefferson and Franklin wore. You feel almost as though you had been transported back to Colonial Days. You really wouldn't have been surprised had any of the Patriots stepped out before you.

Following the talk Mrs. Radcliff assisted Miss Hamilton in showing slides of Williamsburg. Miss Hamilton told about each picture as it was shown.

Mrs. Peters reminded the chapter that during the holidays we should have cause to remember Mrs. Sara Thomas who recently had transferred to our chapter and died almost before we got to know her.

Hostesses were Mrs. Forest Croman, Mrs. O'Dell Baker, Mrs. McClure Hughes, Miss Virginia Metier, Mrs. Leora Sayre, Mrs. David Yates, Mrs. Robert Pickens, Mrs. Glyn Hoover, Miss Mary Spangler, Miss Martha Pile, Mrs. Dorothy Gerhardt and Miss Dhel Renick.

Mrs. Wilson selected for her daughter's wedding a leaf green crepe dress with long chiffon sleeves and matching accessories. Mrs. Johnston wore a pink crepe dress with black accessories. Both mothers wore orchid corsages.

The bride's home was the location for the reception immediately following the ceremony. The bride's table was decorated with a white cloth with a white satin skirt and gold velvet ribbon. The centerpiece consisted of an arrangement of gold and white mums accented at each side by white candles. Hostesses were Martha Hill and Gladys Vann.

The new Mrs. Johnston is a 1970 graduate of Baker High School, Columbus, Ga. She was employed by Commercial Credit Corp.

Mr. Johnston is a 1967 graduate of Laurelville High School. He served two years in the U. S. Army and is currently employed by RCA in Circleville.

Following a brief wedding trip the couple now resides in Laurelville.

ARLINGTON, Tex. (AP) — The so-called mid-cities area between Dallas and Fort Worth is being transformed into a major tourist attraction for both cities.

Cow pastures and empty lots are being converted to amusement parks and stadiums, which some observers estimate would bring in more than $100 million annually in another decade or less.

The past few months saw the opening of Texas Stadium in Irving as home of the Dallas Cowboys, and the refurbishing of Turnpike Stadium as home of the incoming Washington Senators.

It was held in the large lounge of the Information Center. A great log fire was roaring in the large fireplace. Hot Wassail Punch was served along with fruit cake. Fruit cake was served beginning Christmas Day until the 12th day of Christmas, then spice cake was used. On a great table in the lounge all kinds of delicacies were there for the guests to enjoy. Each guest was given a small sprig of green about the size of your thumb and forefinger. Guests were instructed to form a line and walk past the open fire into which each person tossed his sprig to rid oneself of sicknesses and evil. In Colonial Days and times far back in history, man believed in this sort of practice.

Following tradition, the doorways were decorated using magnolia leaves and fruit. A wreath on one of the doorways was made with magnolia leaves as background with real lemons placed around on it. Another doorway used the leaves and half a pineapple cut through from top to bottom. "Twas a pretty site to behold" quoted Miss Hamilton.

A committee of one is placed in charge of decorations. A strict account is made as to what and where and of what the decorations were made. Next-year the same kind of material will be used in a different way and place.

In the Governor's Mansion the authentic furniture was beautiful in its own right, but when enhanced with Christmas decorations, it was a memorable sight. In the center a table with a large bowl was heaped high with fruits, apples, oranges, grapes, nuts and occasionally topped with a whole pineapple. Sometimes ornamental epergnes were filled with small fruits, candies and flowers. The large tables here in the mansion, like the one at the Information Center, were filled with all those delicious delicacies for the guests. Wassail Punch was served here too. Wassail Punch really had a punch in it for the individual who might imbibe too freely of it, Miss Hamilton explained.

Christmas Services were held at "Old Bruton Church." This is an Episcopalian Church. Its ritualistic services are impressive. The priest uses one pulpit for the first part of the services then proceeds to the second one for the second part, then he ascends to the high pulpit. In Colonial times they had no loud speakers or microphones. There were genius men living then as now. So they made a sounding board which was suspended from the ceiling above the priest's head. He had no trouble being heard. When the services were over the pastor led the congregation out from the church two by two each participant carrying a candle which he lighted from another candle held by another person at the aisle. The congregation marched around on the walk to a building at the rear of the church.

At the Inn guests were served Christmas Dinner. When you were seated the college boy waiters placed a large napkin (1 yd. sq.) around your neck and tied it securely.

All hosts, hostesses, waiters, waitresses and news criers were dressed in the style of the Colonial Day such as Washington, Adams, Jefferson and Franklin wore. You feel almost as though you had been transported back to Colonial Days. You really wouldn't have been surprised had any of the Patriots stepped out before you.

Following the talk Mrs. Radcliff assisted Miss Hamilton in showing slides of Williamsburg. Miss Hamilton told about each picture as it was shown.

Mrs. Peters reminded the chapter that during the holidays we should have cause to remember Mrs. Sara Thomas who recently had transferred to our chapter and died almost before we got to know her.

Hostesses were Mrs. Forest Croman, Mrs. O'Dell Baker, Mrs. McClure Hughes, Miss Virginia Metter, Mrs. Leora Sayre, Mrs. David Yates, Mrs. Robert Pickens, Mrs. Glyn Hoover, Miss Mary Spangler, Miss Martha Pile, Mrs. Dorothy Gerhardt and Miss Dhel Renick.

Air Canada Jetliner Skyjacked

TORONTO (AP) — An Air Canada DC9 jetliner returned to Toronto with its six crew members today after a trip to Cuba ordered by a hijacker wielding a revolver and a hand grenade.

The armed man took over the plane as it neared Toronto just before 8 p.m. Sunday at the end of a round trip flight to Thunder Bay, Ont., on the northwestern shore of Lake Superior.

The other 82 passengers got off at Toronto, and some of them did not know the plane had been hijacked. After refueling the plane flew to Havana, landing just before midnight.

The unidentified hijacker got off the plane refueled again, and then it returned to Toronto, setting down at 5:43 a.m. after a three-hour flight home.

The six crew members were rushed to a nearby hotel for rest, and newsmen had no chance to question them.

A spokesman for the Canadian Ministry of External Affairs said the Canadian ambassador to Cuba, K.C. Brown, will try to persuade Cuban authorities to extradite the hijacker.

Air Canada officials said he was a small man, apparently of Latin origin but spoke good English. He handed a stewardess a note about five minutes before the plane was to land in Toronto. The note said: "Think. We have fragmentation grenades and a .38-caliber revolver. Take me to the captain. We are going to Havana. This is no joke."

Despite the use of "we," an airline spokesman said only one man was believed involved.

Peruvian Plane Lost

LIMA, Peru (AP) — Military and civilian search planes checked out reports today that a Peruvian airliner missing since Friday with 92 persons aboard may have crashed in a lake-dotted rain forest.

The plane, whose passengers included five Americans, left Lima bound for the Amazon River city of Iquitos, in northeast Peru. It was last heard from as it prepared to land at Pucallpa, a jungle town on the eastern slopes of the Andes.

The search was extended Sunday to include a 60-mile area along the Electra project's route over the mountains.

"There have been several reports of people having heard a plane going down in the Tamaya area," a search coordinator said.

The area along the Tamaya River is covered by dense forest and is inhabited only by Shipibo and Campa Indians.

Sisters Of Mercy

Look After Lepers

HALIFAX (AP) — Two Nova Scotia nursing sisters will spend the next six months looking after lepers, abandoned children and people dying destitute in Calcutta.

Sister Margaret MacDonald of Sydney and Sister Susan Duggan of East Dover, 1971 graduates of the Halifax Infirmary School of Nursing, answered a call for volunteers from Mother Teresa of Calcutta.

Mother Teresa, a Yugoslav nun, won the 1971 Pope John XXIII Peace prize for her 20 years of work among the sick and poor in Northern India.

In Calcutta she operates a hospital for the dying destitute, a home for abandoned children and a hospital for lepers.

Cart Thefts Costly

DALLAS (AP) — The grocery cart is just about everything else as well. And it's cost to area stores runs in the vicinity of $60,000 a month from thefts, one grocery chain executive estimates.

They can be seen hauling laundry, store garbage, papers and in use as kids' hill carts.

Each cart costs about $30. Few if any persons are ever prosecuted for theft of the carriers.

Drug Users Take Over GI Center

TRAVIS AIR FORCE BASE, Calif. (AP) — A group of servicemen just back from Vietnam barricaded themselves in the second floor of a drug treatment center, a base official confirmed today.

A man identifying himself as Army Spec. 4 Mike Oliver said in a telephone interview that he and 17 other servicemen took over the center late Sunday night.

Oliver claimed he and the other 17 all were former opium users who were being held as prisoners at the base's David Grant Medical Center.

They were demanding their release from the hospital, separation from the service, physicals by civilian doctors and amnesty for all military drug users, Oliver said.

Oliver also said the 18 servicemen were joined by three former Vietnam veterans.

The 18, he added, had returned from Vietnam on Saturday and were told they would be kept at Travis, 50 miles east of San Francisco, until Wednesday.

Base officials declined immediate comment on the takeover but one spokesman confirmed that it had occurred.

Dear Abby: Jealousy Always A Terrible Mistake

DEAR ABBY: Marv and I are in our early 20's, and have been married almost three years. Marv works about 30 miles from where we live, so he put an ad in the paper for a rider to share expenses to and from work. He got one reply. From a FEMALE!

I saw her once and I don't want her riding with my husband. She's about my age, very pretty and dresses real nice, only she wears her clothes very short. Her dresses look like my blouses.

I told Marv to keep advertising until he got a male. He said he wouldn't. I even cried and begged, but he insists that he loves me, I am foolish to be jealous, and until I grow up we will always have trouble.

Abby, I can't help being jealous when I think of that girl sitting next to Marv nearly two hours a day in her short skirts.

Should I keep after Marv about this? If you tell me to stop nagging him, I will, but if you say he shouldn't let this girl ride with him, I'll keep nagging him until he stops.

I have been very cold to Marv and not much of a wife to him not much of a wife to him since this girl started riding with him.

SILLY OR NOT? DEAR SILLY: I can understand your jealousy, but I think you're making a terrible mistake to (a) nag Marv to dump the girl rider; (b) punish him by being "cold" to him. Now is the time to be warmer than ever. The best excuse in the world for a man to crawl into somebody else's bed is because he was kicked out of his own.

DEAR ABBY: My 4-year-old son is a very friendly child. Too friendly, in fact.

If I take him to the supermarket, he approaches strangers with, "Hi. How are you?"

If they are in a hurry and ignore him, or answer him curtly, he persists, "How are you? What's your name? Where do you live?" And he keeps it up until I demand that he stop.

I suppose I should be glad that he is so outgoing and friendly, but I sometimes wonder if it is wise for youngsters to be so forward and aggressive with strangers.

Should I try to keep him from being so friendly, or do you think it might thwart his personality?

IN DOUBT DEAR IN: I would teach my child to REPLY when spoken to, but I would discourage him from getting too friendly with strangers.

DEAR ABBY: I am deeply concerned over the letter from the mother who heard her 16-year-old making obscene telephone calls.

You told her that her son desperately needed professional help, and urged to seek it. But you didn't mention the stiff penalty the law now imposed for this offense.

Two years ago our son, who was then 17, went to court for making obscene phone calls. He was lucky to be let off with a sentence of 30 days "observation," and two years' probation, but he couldn't have been sentenced to as much as ten years!

In the last few years the law has really cracked down on those found guilty of making obscene telephone calls. I implore you to advise that mothers of these facts. Or better yet, print this for those who do not realize the seriousness of such an offense.

WENT THRU IT DEAR WENT: Thank you for your very informative letter. It just may make some would-be offender think twice, and then decide it's not worth it.

CONFIDENTIAL TO JACK C. IN CLEVELAND: You are right on target, Jack. Along with fire prevention, one should be reminded that every home should have a fire extinguisher. I have mine hanging on the kitchen wall, and I hope I never have to use it!

Views On TV-Radio

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — Television pulled off its usual post-Christmas magic trick on Sunday. "Deck the Halls" and Santa suddenly disappeared and "Auld Lang Syne" just as suddenly returned for a week's stay. Network television's epidemic of reruns ended Sunday, too, as the major rating service, after taking a week off, resumed today its electronic count of audience sizes.

The Public Broadcasting stations presented a two-hour adaptation of a 40-year-old British comedy classic, "Cold Comfort Farm," the most interesting item around on Sunday. It was the most unusual item, too, in the imported "Masterpiece Theatre" repertoire.

The American viewer had to be grateful for preliminary guidance given by host Alistair Cooke. It was the lunatic story of a perky Pollyanna-type young woman who moved onto a primitive farm inhabited by a pack of quite mad relatives.

There was the matriarch of the family, a recluse who when a girl saw "something nasty in the woodshed"—centipedes. There was her son-in-law, a hell-fire and damnation lay preacher and his brooding and morbid wife and a vast assortment of grunting oafs and screaming wenches.

Flora the heroine was determined to civilize her insane relatives and she succeeded by some Mary Poppins-style ruses. She cleaned up the family, solved their problems, married off one couple and turned one oaf into a movie star.

Cooke fortunately warned American viewers not to worry when they failed to understand some of the strange accents used, observing that the English audiences had the same problem.

It was lusty, bawdy and broad comedy played in a muddy barnyard setting. Occasionally a woman would be casually tossed down a well; porridge was slopped all over tablets. Men roared, women howled and cows moored. It was very strange, but Cooke had told us that this was a satire reacting to the extreme reverence that Britons of the 1930s had for country life.

It must have seemed funnier to English audiences than it did to those in this country.

An exception to the run-of-the-mill programming over the holiday week-end was CBS's "Beethoven's Birthday" on Friday night. While a year late in being broadcast, it was a bicentennial tribute to the composer. The program was taped more than a year ago in Vienna with Leonard Bernstein conducting the Vienna Philharmonic Orchestra and handling the commentary.

The music was impressive, and Bernstein's commentary was especially incisive and illuminating. He discussed Beethoven by stressing the contradiction between his disorderly way of living and the complete order of his music.

Fights The Measles JOHANNESBURG, South Africa (AP) — The city council has begun a two-month drive to immunize 15,000 schoolgirls against German measles. Vaccine, which cost the authorities $1.40 per child, was available to all white girls in their first year of high school and to all 12-year-old schoolgirls of other races.

German measles or rubella, is an infectious disease which, if contracted by pregnant women, can result in mentally retarded children.

Interest Rate Controls Nixed By Cost Of Living Council

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Cost of Living Council has refused to impose controls over interest rates "at this time" but says voluntary restraints will be used in the future.

The council's statement Thursday was immediately criticized by House Banking and Currency Committee Chairman Rep. Wright Patman, D-Tex., who called it a "sorry holiday greeting to millions of customers."

Patman also accused President Nixon of violating the Economic Stabilization Act by allowing the council to exempt all forms of interest rates without giving a reason for each exemption.

The act requires the President to either take action to stabilize interest rates or make a finding that such action is not necessary. If the President decides the action is not required, he must give his reasons.

The council's decision to let interest rates float followed an earlier decision Thursday that allowed the U.S. Postal Service to increase postal rates by merely certifying the increases meet four anti-inflationary conditions.

The Postal Service announced shortly after the council's decision that it would raise third class mail rates by an average of 23.9 per cent effective Jan. 24.

The service had planned to increase third class rates Sept. 15 but that hike was postponed by the wage-price freeze announced by President Nixon Aug. 15.

In other economic developments Thursday, the Price Commission trimmed a proposed Blue Cross-Blue Shield rate increase for federal employees from the requested 34.1

per cent to 22 per cent. Rep. Jerome R. Waldie, D-Calif., called the 22 per cent figure an exorbitant sign of things to come.

The Blue Cross-Blue Shield decision was the first test of the Price Commission's day-old guidelines on insurance rates. The guidelines say any increases may not be used to fatten profits or cover past losses.

In Detroit, Ford Motor Co. said it had applied for a 1.5 per cent price increase on cars and trucks. If granted, the boost would mark the first time a company had gotten two increase approvals in Phase 2.

The Price Commission approved a 2.9 per cent hike for Ford last month.

No Inductions In January?

WASHINGTON (AP) — Selective Service officials predict that no one will be drafted next month.

The officials say the Pentagon has not issued a new draft call for the first quarter of 1972, and since inductees must have 30 days' notice before they are drafted, it is almost certain there won't be any young men ordered up in January.

Defense Department sources say when the new quarterly call is issued it probably will be in the relatively low 10,000 range, similar to the October-December period now ending.

With the million-man Army due to be pared by more than 100,000 men during the next six months, there are indications the 1972 draft call will fall below the 1971 total of 98,000. It could be the lowest since before the Korean War.

Vietnam draft calls peaked at 364,000 in 1966.

Youngstown Shooting Investigated

YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio (AP)—George E. Lightfoot, 22, of Youngstown was shot to death and four other persons were wounded late Saturday night in a shooting at a near-downtown dance hall.

A dance hall security guard was being held for questioning. A ruling in the shooting was expected today.

Police said Lightfoot, his wife, Sharlene, 20, his sister, Cynthia and her husband, Riggle M. Moore, 26, had gone to the dance spot for an "over-21 party." All got in except Lightfoot, who was asked for identification to prove his age.

As Lightfoot, a sailor home on leave, reached into his pocket the 43-year-old security guard shot him, police said.

When the relatives returned to find out what happened, the guard fired at them, too, police said. All three relatives and the ticket taker, Sidney Joe, 30, of Youngstown, were shot, police said.

All but Joe were treated at South Side Hospital and released. Joe was kept overnight for observation.

Police said witnesses told them there was no argument before the shooting, but that the guard, whose name was not released, has asked twice for identification before Lightfoot reached into his pocket.

Hearing Scheduled In Yuletide Slaying

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP)—Tyrone Howard, 21, of Cleveland was to appear in Cleveland Municipal Court today for a preliminary hearing on a charge of second-degree murder in the Santa Claus slaying of John E. Fitzpatrick, 36, of Euclid.

Fitzpatrick was stabbed to death Tuesday night in the Higbee Co.'s downtown store while standing in line as three of his children waited to see Santa Claus. About 75 persons watched as the stabbing took place.

Howard currently is free on $5,000 bond, having posted the money Saturday. He had denied stabbing Fitzpatrick.

Dear Abby: By Abigail Van Buren

Jealousy Always A Terrible Mistake

DEAR ABBY: Marv and I are in our early 20's, and have been married almost three years. Marv works about 30 miles from where we live, so he put an ad in the paper for a rider to share expenses to and from work. He got one reply. From a FEMALE!

I saw her once and I don't want her riding with my husband. She's about my age, very pretty and dresses real nice, only she wears her clothes very short. Her dresses look like my blouses.

I told Marv to keep advertising until he got a male. He said he wouldn't. I even cried and begged, but he insists that he loves me. I am foolish to be jealous, and until I grow up we will always have trouble.

Abby, I can't help being jealous when I think of that girl sitting next to Marv nearly two hours a day in her short skirts.

Should I keep after Marv about this? If you tell me to stop nagging him, I will, but if you say he shouldn't let this girl ride with him, I'll keep nagging him until he stops.

I have been very cold to Marv and not much of a wife to him not much of a wife to him since this girl started riding with him.

SILLY OR NOT?
DEAR ABBY: I can understand your jealousy, but I think you're making a terrible mistake to (a) nag Marv to dump the girl rider; (b) punish him by being "cold" to him. Now is the time to be warmer than ever. The best excuse in the world for a man to crawl into somebody else's bed is because he was kicked out of his own.

DEAR ABBY: My 4-year-old son is a very friendly child. Too friendly, in fact.

If I take him to the supermarket, he approaches strangers with, "Hi. How are you?"

If they are in a hurry and ignore him, or answer him curtly, he persists. "How are you? What's your name? Where do you live?" And he keeps it up until I demand that he stop.

I suppose I should be glad that he is so outgoing and friendly, but I sometimes wonder if it is wise for youngsters to be so forward and aggressive with strangers.

Should I try to keep him from being so friendly, or do you think it might thwart his personality?

IN DOUBT
DEAR ABBY: I would teach my child to REPLY when spoken to, but I would discourage him from getting too friendly with strangers.

DEAR ABBY: I am deeply concerned over the letter from the mother who heard her 16-year-old making obscene telephone calls.

You told her that her son desperately needed professional help, and urged to seek it. But you didn't mention the stiff penalty the law now imposed for this offense.

Two years ago our son, who was then 17, went to court for making obscene phone calls. He was lucky to be let off with a sentence of 30 days "observation," and two years' probation, but he couldn't have been sentenced to as much as ten years!

In the last few years the law has really cracked down on those found guilty of making obscene telephone calls. I implore you to advise that mothers of these facts. Or better yet, print this for those who do not realize the seriousness of such an offense.

WENT THRU IT
DEAR ABBY: Thank you for your very informative letter. It just may make some would-be offender think twice, and then decide it's not worth it.

CONFIDENTIAL TO JACK C.
IN CLEVELAND: You are right on target, Jack. Along with fire prevention, one should be reminded that every home should have a fire extinguisher. I have mine hanging on the kitchen wall, and I hope I never have to use it!

Views On TV - Radio

By CYNTHIA LOWRY

AP Television-Radio Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — Television pulled off its usual post-Christmas magic trick on Sunday. "Deck the Halls" and Santa suddenly disappeared and "Auld Lang Syne" just as suddenly returned for a week's stay. Network television's epidemic of reruns ended Sunday, too, as the major rating service, after taking a week off, resumed today its electronic count of audience sizes.

The Public Broadcasting stations presented a two-hour adaptation of a 40-year-old British comedy classic, "Cold Comfort Farm," the most interesting item around on Sunday. It was the most unusual item, too, in the imported "Masterpiece Theatre" repertoire.

The American viewer had to be grateful for preliminary guidance given by host Alistair Cooke. It was the lunatic story of a perky Pollyanna-type young woman who moved onto a primitive farm inhabited by a pack of quite mad relatives.

There was the matriarch of the family, a recluse who when a girl saw "something nasty in the woodshed"—centipedes. There was her son-in-law, a hell-fire and damnation lay preacher and his brooding and morbid wife and a vast assortment of grunting oafs and screaming wenches.

Flora the heroine was determined to civilize her insane relatives and she succeeded by some Mary Poppins-style ruses. She cleaned up the family, solved their problems, married off one couple and turned one oaf into a movie star.

Cooke fortunately warned American viewers not to worry when they failed to understand some of the strange accents used, observing that the English audiences had the same problem.

It was lusty, bawdy and broad comedy played in a muddy barnyard setting. Occasionally a woman would be casually tossed down a well; porridge was slopped all over tablets. Men roared, women howled and cows mooed. It was very strange, but Cooke had told us that this was a satire reacting to the extreme reverence that Britons of the 1930s had for country life.

It must have seemed funnier to English audiences than it did to those in this country.

An exception to the run-of-the-mill programming over the holiday week-end was CBS's "Beethoven's Birthday" on Friday night. While a year late in being broadcast, it was a bi-centennial tribute to the composer. The program was taped more than a year ago in Vienna with Leonard Bernstein conducting the Vienna Philharmonic Orchestra and handling the commentary.

The music was impressive, and Bernstein's commentary was especially incisive and illuminating. He discussed Beethoven by stressing the contradiction between his disorderly way of living and the complete order of his music.

Fights The Measles

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa (AP) — The city council has begun a two-month drive to immunize 15,000 schoolgirls against German measles. Vaccine, which cost the authorities $1.40 per child, was available to all white girls in their first year of high school and to all 12-year-old schoolgirls of other races.

German measles or rubella, is an infectious disease which, if contracted by pregnant women, can result in mentally retarded children.

Interest Rate Controls Nixed By Cost Of Living Council

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Cost of Living Council has refused to impose controls over interest rates "at this time" but says voluntary restraints will be used in the future.

The council's statement Thursday was immediately criticized by House Banking and Currency Committee Chairman Rep. Wright Patman, D-Tex., who called it a "sorry holiday greeting to millions of customers."

Patman also accused President Nixon of violating the Economic Stabilization Act by allowing the council to exempt all forms of interest rates without giving a reason for each exemption.

The act requires the President to either take action to stabilize interest rates or make a finding that such action is not necessary. If the President decides the action is not required, he must give his reasons.

The council's decision to let interest rates float followed an earlier decision Thursday that allowed the U.S. Postal Service to increase postal rates by merely certifying the increases meet four anti-inflationary conditions.

The Postal Service announced shortly after the council's decision that it would raise third class mail rates by an average of 23.9 per cent effective Jan. 24.

The service had planned to increase third class rates Sept. 15 but that hike was postponed by the wage-price freeze announced by President Nixon Aug. 15.

In other economic developments Thursday, the Price Commission trimmed a proposed Blue Cross-Blue Shield rate increase for federal employees from the requested 34.1

per cent to 22 per cent. Rep. Jerome R. Waldie, D-Calif., called the 22 per cent figure an exorbitant sign of things to come.

The Blue Cross-Blue Shield decision was the first test of the Price Commission's day-old guidelines on insurance rates. The guidelines say any increases may not be used to fatten profits or cover past losses.

In Detroit, Ford Motor Co. said it had applied for a 1.5 per cent price increase on cars and trucks. If granted, the boost would mark the first time a company had gotten two increase approvals in Phase 2.

The Price Commission approved a 2.9 per cent hike for Ford last month.

No Inductions In January?

WASHINGTON (AP) — Selective Service officials predict that no one will be drafted next month.

The officials say the Pentagon has not issued a new draft call for the first quarter of 1972, and since inductees must have 30 days' notice before they are drafted, it is almost certain there won't be any young men ordered up in January.

Defense Department sources say when the new quarterly call is issued it probably will be in the relatively low 10,000 range, similar to the October-December period now ending.

With the million-man Army due to be pared by more than 100,000 men during the next six months, there are indications the 1972 draft call will fall below the 1971 total of 98,000. It could be the lowest since before the Korean War.

Vietnam draft calls peaked at 364,000 in 1966.

Chinese Men Walk On Fire

By HARI SUBRAMANIAM
KUALA LUMPUR, Malaysia (AP) — A small group of Americans and European tourists watching the annual "fire-walking ceremony" at the Lim Thien Kong (Paradise) Temple gasped in shocked disbelief.

One of them remarked, "They are going to be burnt alive."

But the more than 100 Chinese male devotees, all dressed in white to signify purity, did not flinch.

The devotees, averaging about 35-year-old stepped barefoot on to the charcoal fire, one foot deep, 20-feet long and six-feet wide and, went across chanting prayers to God to forgive them their sins.

There were some, especially the younger ones, who ran across quickly. But the older ones, especially those who had done it several times in previous years, walked across slowly with bowed heads and in deep prayer. They did not fear the fire for the gods would protect them, they said. Not one of the devotees who walked the fire had a burn on his feet.

One Western-trained doctor summed it up as "one of those mysteries of the East. Maybe they are hypnotized and do not fear the fire. But still they don't get burnt? I don't know."

The fire-walking climaxed the festival of Kau Ong Yah which falls on the ninth day of the ninth month of the lunar calendar.

It was the 91st time the fire-walking festival took place at the Lim Thien Kong Temple at Anpan village about 10 miles from Kuala Lumpur.

Murder Charge Filed In Santa Line Slaying

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — Twenty-one-year-old Tyrone Howard has been charged with second-degree murder in the slaying of John E. Fitzpatrick, who was killed while waiting in line with his children to see Santa Claus.

Chief police prosecutor Everett A. Chandler charged Howard Thursday after summarizing evidence which he said indicated Fitzpatrick had precipitated the fight with Howard by first using obscene language and then grabbing Howard.

Howard remained in city jail pending a preliminary hearing Monday in Municipal Court.

Chandler said he could find no evidence of premeditation, which is needed to make the charge first-degree murder. He said witnesses told police Fitzpatrick was stabbed three times following an argument

Red China Story Proved Top AP Vote-Getter For 1971

NEW YORK (AP) — Red China was the big story of 1971, according to editors and news directors of Associated Press member newspapers and radio and television stations who voted for the top 10 stories of the year.

With more than 30 stories on the ballot, the newsmen voted Red China's admission to the United Nations, President Nixon's plan to visit that country, and a trip to the Asian nation by a U.S. Ping Pong team as the top news story of 1971.

President Nixon also figured prominently in the second top story as the newsmen voted his wage-price freeze, Phase 2, and their national and international effects the No. 2 story of 1971.

The President reversed his economic policy Aug. 15 when he banned worker raises and ordered prices of manufactured goods to remain where they were. He also halted the sale of gold to foreigners in return for dollars and imposed an extra 10 cent tariff on all imported manufactured goods.

The other top stories of 1971 as voted by the newsmen were: (3) the Pentagon papers and the resulting fight over publication; (4) the conviction of Lt. William L. Calley Jr.; (5) the successful Apollo 14 and Apollo 15 moon landings; (6) violence at Attica prison results in the loss of 43 lives; (7) the Vietnam war, troop withdrawals, and the election of President Nguyen Van Thieu; (8) the school busing issue; (9) a California earthquake claims more than 60 lives; and, (10) the Senate votes down the Nixon administration's foreign aid authorization bill.

SAIGON (AP) — American and South Vietnamese forces halted operations in South Vietnam Friday for a 24-hour Christmas cease fire and the U.S. Command announced American warplanes attacked another enemy air defense radar site inside North Vietnam.

The allied cease-fire went into effect at 6 p.m. Saigon time, 17 hours after the Viet Cong's unilateral truce of 72 hours began.

But the South Vietnamese command reported that enemy forces staged two attacks during the first hour of the Viet Cong cease-fire, killing three Saigon soldiers and wounding six.

There were no attacks reported against U.S. forces.

Friday's strike, the three others Thursday raised to 106 the number of American air strikes inside North Vietnam this year, including 17 in the past two weeks. The latest strike was five miles from the Laos border.

The sudden increase in American attacks is apparently in reaction to the loss of four U.S. fighter-bombers over Laos and North Vietnam last weekend.

One of Thursday's strikes inside North Vietnam was 25 miles from the Laos border and the others were 12 and 19 miles from the border. The U.S. Command claimed the three fighter escorts that carried out the raids were protecting American planes conducting operation over Laos.

A communique said each of the F105 fired an air-to-ground missile at radar sites 53 and 82 miles northwest of the coastal city of Vinh and 26 miles west of Dong Hoi with unknown results. The command said there was no damage to U.S. aircraft.

Cambodians May Oust Lon Nol

PHNOM PENH, Cambodia (AP) — Military and political leaders are pressuring Marshal Lon Nol to surrender power gracefully in the face of a series of setbacks on the battlefield, but the semi-invalid premier has given no hint that he'll step down.

The alternative, highly placed sources said, could be a coup to depose the 58-year-old marshal from the post he has held since August 1969.

Lon Nol has never fully recovered from a stroke suffered last February, but has played an increasingly important role in the war against the North Vietnamese and Viet Cong troops in Cambodia. Critics hold him responsible for the strategy that led to the collapse of the entire northeastern front earlier this month.

When the enemy attacked in force along Highway 6, where Cambodian forces were extended for more than 30 miles, Lon Nol ordered a general retreat. The retreat, however, degenerated into a rout, with thousands of soldiers fleeing to Phnom Penh, followed by civilian refugees from towns abandoned by Cambodian troops and from towns still under government control.

The North Vietnamese and Viet Cong quickly moved two regiments to within sight of the capital's outskirts, and have since repeatedly rocketed the city's airport and on one occasion a residential section.

The result, it is generally conceded, is a slump in civilian and military morale to the lowest point in more than 20 months of warfare.

Free Money Brings Police

MILWAUKEE (AP) — A man strolled through a bus and handed a $10 bill to each startled passenger before vanishing out the rear door.

By the time police caught up with the 55-year-old man Thursday, he had given away an estimated $1,400 to strangers and was on his way back to a savings and loan association to withdraw $2,000 more.

Police persuaded officials at the firm not to allow their generous customer to withdraw more from his account.

Police Capt. Jerome A. Jagmin said the man, whom authorities declined to identify, was taken to a hospital after it was reported he was despondent over the death of his wife two months ago.

The man explained that he had only wanted to brighten the Christmas season for others, Jagmin said.

Remap Ruling Clears Way For Filings

COLUMBUS, Ohio AP)—Aspirants for Ohio House and Senate seats now may begin filing petitions of candidacy with county election boards.

Secretary of State Ted Brown cleared the way for the filings by advising the 88 boards to follow legislative district lines contained in an apportionment plan approved by the federal court in Cleveland.

The court approved the plan after the Democratic-Controlled apportionment board corrected several errors in a map adopted in September. The court earlier found the original plan to be unconstitutional.

Republicans are appealing the court's favorable ruling, but the plan apparently will be used for the 1972 elections because the filing deadline is Feb. 2, just five weeks away.

The appointment plan, drawn by Gov. John Gilligan, favors Democrats and could lead to the party taking control of both houses in the next legislature.

The last time Democrats had a majority in either or both houses was in 1959-60.

Holiday Highway Toll Hits 592

Over 78 Hours

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The traffic death toll on the nation's highways rose to 592 as the four-day Christmas Holiday weekend ended officially at midnight local time.

The figure was within the range predicted by the National Safety Council, which had estimated 520 to 620 traffic deaths within the 78-hour period beginning at 6 p.m. Thursday.

California led the nation in number of traffic deaths with 55.

The highest number of persons killed in Christmas traffic accidents in recent years was 720 in 1965. Last year's figure was 509.

Remap Ruling Clears Way For Filings

COLUMBUS, Ohio AP)—Aspirants for Ohio House and Senate seats now may begin filing petitions of candidacy with county election boards.

Secretary of State Ted Brown cleared the way for the filings by advising the 88 boards to follow legislative district lines contained in an apportionment plan approved by the federal court in Cleveland.

The court approved the plan after the Democratic-Controlled apportionment board corrected several errors in a map adopted in September. The court earlier found the original plan to be unconstitutional.

Republicans are appealing the court's favorable ruling, but the plan apparently will be used for the 1972 elections because the filing deadline is Feb. 2, just five weeks away.

The appointment plan, drawn by Gov. John Gilligan, favors Democrats and could lead to the party taking control of both houses in the next legislature.

The last time Democrats had a majority in either or both houses was in 1959-60.

Holiday Highway

Toll Hits 592

Over 78 Hours

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
The traffic death toll on the nation's highways rose to 592 as the four-day Christmas Holiday weekend ended officially at midnight local time.

The figure was within the range predicted by the National Safety Council, which had estimated 520 to 620 traffic deaths within the 78-hour period beginning at 6 p.m. Thursday.

California led the nation in number of traffic deaths with 55.

The highest number of persons killed in Christmas traffic accidents in recent years was 720 in 1965. Last year's figure was 509.

Cleveland Officer Suspended After Christmas Shooting

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP)—Cleveland Police Lt. Harry Leisman will be suspended from the force until completion of an investigation into the Christmas Eve shooting on the city's West Side that killed two persons, Mayor Ralph Perk said.

The mayor said Sunday that in relieving Leisman he did not want to "prejudice anyone's interests in this case, and I must emphasize that he is being relieved of performing police work only."

"Chief (Gerald) Rademaker and I have discussed the case fully, and I am confident of the chief's integrity. I know the Cleveland Police Department can investigate this case objectively."

Perk also said that he would call in "outside investigators" if needed, but added: "I do not believe that will be necessary."

Leisman made a statement to police Sunday and officers said he fired shots from a rifle. Neither Leisman nor Rademaker would say what else was contained in the statement.

Leisman remained in good condition at St. John Hospital with a hip wound received in the shooting incident at a West Side Tavern.

One of the fatal shots struck Earl Hall, 10. The other killed Mrs. Thelma Tuck, 25.

Young Hall was sitting at home near the tavern. The bullet crashed through the wooden wall of the building through a gas main and into the boy's chest.

A stolen, M14 automatic rifle was confiscated.

The shooting followed an argument at the tavern in which three men were thrown out. One of the three went to Leisman, who was visiting his mother who lives nearby, and Leisman, off duty at the time, said he went to the bar with "a rifle" to investigate.

Leisman said he was shot in the hip while talking with Joseph Ruffin, who had been injured in the fight.

Witnesses said Leisman fired into the bar from West 57th Street and then went to the front door where he fired several more shots.

The Cleveland Plain Dealer said Ruffin told reporters that Leisman had a shotgun and that automatic rifle fire came from inside the bar.

Police have not said from whom the automatic rifle was taken.

Funeral services for the Hall boy will be Tuesday morning in Wheeling, W.Va.

Skyjack Bid Seen Replay Of November

CHICAGO (AP) — Authorities say a man who threatened to blow up a Northwest Airlines jet unless paid $300,000 ransom may have been trying to reenact last month's successful hijacking by a skydiver.

FBI agents said Sunday that the dynamite with which Everett L. Holt, 25, allegedly threatened to blow up the plane Friday was fake, and that the pistol he allegedly held on the plane's pilot may have been loaded with blanks.

The FBI said that at least the first two bullets in the gun were blanks. Despite reports the hijacker fired two shots aboard the Miami-bound Boeing 707 shortly after it left the Twin Cities International Airport in Minneapolis-St. Paul, a search of the plane at O'Hare International Airport failed to turn up any bullet holes.

Holt was held without bond and scheduled to appear in court today.

Authorities speculated that Holt may have been playing the leading role in an attempted replay of the hijacking in November when a skyjacker parachuted from a jet with $200,000 in cash between Seattle and Reno, Nev.

Holt surrendered to police in an isolated section of O'Hare after holding the plane and 34 persons aboard hostage for $300,000 ransom and parachutes.

He had allowed all but one of the passengers to leave the plane. The pilot and crew slipped out a front exit door unnoticed.

When FBI agents announced through a loudspeaker that the plane was surrounded and that he wouldn't get a pilot to fly him where he wanted to go, Holt stepped from the aircraft and gave himself up.

Drug Test Curbs Eyed

SAIGON (AP) — The Army says it may drop regular narcotics tests for officers and senior sergeants in Vietnam, because urinalyses so far have shown most narcotics users are young privates and junior sergeants.

A spokesman said several changes in the Army's antidrug program are under consideration to "streamline the program and make it more efficient" but no final decisions have been made.

"We continuously review all elements of the drug-testing program to determine the most effective combination of tests," he said. "Increased emphasis is being placed on frequent unannounced unit tests."

All U.S. servicemen — including those leaving for the United States, those going on leave and those signing up for another Vietnam tour now must take the urine test to detect use of narcotics.

The U.S. Command also conducts spot checks of entire units. More than half a million urinalyses have been given since the testing began last June, the Pentagon estimates.

Mother Knows Best

DALLAS (AP) — Raising quadruplets is four times the fun of raising one child, says Mrs. Clifford Ward, whose quads were born here last May 1.

"If you are going to have children, I've found it much more interesting and enjoyable to raise them in multiples, and I've tried it both ways," she says.

Before she gave birth to two sons and two daughters last spring, Mrs. Ward had a son and a daughter.

SEC Studies Dissemination Of Corporation Forecasts

NEW YORK (AP) — The Securities and Exchange Commission is considering ways to require broader dissemination of corporate earnings projections that now circulate mainly among a small group of professional investors.

This would be a new area of public disclosure regulation and would be aimed at giving the individual investor equal access to information now often obtained by investment institutions and large securities traders.

SEC Chairman William J. Casey said in an interview that the commission is considering "how factual information to investors can and should be extended, how to make research information more broadly available and how to perhaps make earnings projections more evenly available."

"I do not think you can justify making earnings projections, which significantly affect the value of a stock, available selectively," he said.

He explained that a company should have the same obligation to provide the general investing public with any earnings projections it provides or confirms for securities analysts or large investors.

The SEC is expected to produce shortly its findings as a result of a series of hearings on problems and future of the securities industry. The various exchanges also are working on plans for a consolidation of information and trading.

The result is expected to be a major reshaping of the securities industry, with the outcome likely to be a single national market.

"There is general agreement that there should be a central market system which really would operate as a federation of the existing markets," Casey said.

The existing exchanges, possibly including the present over-the-counter market, might be consolidated into a confederation in which an order would be routed to the trading area where the best trade could be obtained.

He said the SEC would "point to the general direction," but depend on the exchanges to work out the specific mechanics.

Police Save Korean Man From Death

CASTROP-RAUXEL, Germany (AP) — A Korean coal miner was held in jail overnight for his own protection after 350 of his countrymen tried to execute him because his actions had made them lose face.

Song Doo-suk, 25, was charged with stealing about $215 worth of photographic equipment last week. His mates felt the charges sullied the honor of all of them.

Two of them called at Song's home on Christmas Eve, handed him a knife and told him the other miners had decided he must commit hara-kiri.

But on Christmas morning Song was still alive. His countrymen then ordered him to appear outside in a good suit. They bound his hands with a sheet and began marching him to the Dortmund-Ems canal to drown him.

Song broke and ran into a pond. Fifty policemen moved in on the vigilantes from two trucks and a helicopter and took Song into custody. They took no action against the other Koreans.

There are 2,300 Korean coal miners working in West Germany because of the chronic labor shortage.

Many American families are building their own three-bedroom "castles" in Spain where the living is economical.

A funny thing about backs. Everyone thinks they're good and straight yet they are full of curves. And no two are alike. That's why Simmons has created the Beautyrest® Back Care mattress.

Most extra-firm mattresses are made very hard and "boardy" so you lie on your hips and shoulders. With your spine sagging in between.

Beautyrest Back Care is different. It is made of separate extra-strong coils that are free to react separately and support whatever part of your body they are under. It conforms to the curves of your own unique back. And keeps your spine straight. You get the best rest a body ever had.

If you want normal-firm support in a mattress, try the Beautyrest Supreme. Both mattresses are now treated with Scotchgard® fabric protector to resist spots and stains for years.

Beautyrest Back Care 1 or Beautyrest Supreme Twin or Full size mattress or foundation $99.95 each; Extra Long Twin size $219.95 set; Queen size $269.95 set; King size $389.95 set.

Circleville Hosts Vikings In County Rivalry Clash

Cage action makes its hold appearance Tuesday night when the Vikings of Teays Valley meet the Tigers of Circleville on the Red and Black floor. Coach John Lawhorn will send his high scorers, Tiger 12 on the season, against the Vikings of Coach Bob Hoover, 1-5 for the year, who after an opening victory have not been able come up with a winning combination again.

The Teays Valley win was a 74-72 conquest over Miami Trace, a team that upended the Tigers, 68-59, and who are leading the South Central Ohio League.

Circleville is ripping the cords at a 75 point per game average and the sticky man to man defense is limiting the opponents to 62 markers per contest.

 OFFENSIVELY the Vikings have been putting 66 points a game on the scoreboard but the defense has been yielding 79 markers per fray.

But in a county rivalry anything can happen and usually does so you can toss the records out the window and let the chips fall where they may.

Terry Morrison is the main cog in the Red and Black machine and the Vikings will have to control the Tiger Terror if they hope to come out of the contest on the winning side.

He makes the Tiger roar with his fine ball handling, quick defensive moves and great shooting ability. Morrison is averaging 20.3 points per game and has the knack of coming up with the key buckets.

Balanced scoring has been the strong point of the Tiger attack with Dave Truex hitting the nets at an 18 point per contest clip and Don Valentine and Dan Graham averaging a little over 10 points each in the six contests.

For Circleville it will probably be Jim Neal and Morrison at the guard spots, Graham at center and Truex and Valentine working up front.

Jeff Sheets, a red-headed forward, leads Teays Valley with a game average of 13.8 and does a good job on the boards.

 STEVE Bumgarner is shooting at an 11.3 average per contest and Jack Brinker is hitting a little better than nine points per fray.

The rest of the Viking scoring comes from Randy Nungster, Dave Chaffin, Jim Logsdon, Jerry Sabine, Jim Pabst and Craig Pontius.

Depth on the Tiger bench provides extra punch with Kent Wolfe, Dave Mehalick and Randy Sprout leading the way.

Meet The Tigers

Dave Mehalick is a sophomore member of the Circleville High School basketball team. Mehalick is the son of Mr. and Mrs. William Mehalick, 140 Reber Ave.

Ohio College Cage Teams In Tourneys

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS Rested from an idle Christmas weekend, some Ohio college basketball teams return to the courts tonight, mostly in tournament play.

Unbeaten Defiance, sporting an average winning margin of 22 points in five games, is figured the team to beat in the Hoosier-Buckeye Conference tournament at Findlay.

Two Indiana teams, Earlham and Taylor, both with 7-2 records, also could provide some tough competition in the nine-team tourney. Earlham has been hitting 54 per cent of its shots from the field and Taylor has been averaging 106 points a game.

Eastern Michigan, runnerup in last year's NAIA tournament, West Virginia State, Genesee State, N. Y., and the host Eagles compete in the two-day Ashland Tournament opening tonight.

Mount Union is hosting a tournament, with the other Ohio competitors being Baldwin-Wallace and Hiram.

Bowling Green travels to Detroit for the Motor City Classic and Wittnberg will be in Minneapolis for the Lutheran Tournament.

In non-tournament action tonight, Cincinnati visits Butler, Cleveland State is at Kent State and Capital invades Wayne State, Mich.

QUESTIONS
1-In football, if a field goal holder fumbles the ball, can he run with it?
2-John McGraw was a famed baseball manager. What position did he play when an active participant?
3-Who was named "Big Six" in baseball?

HOOHEE? A GREAT second baseman with the Tigers, this fellow had a lifetime batting average of .321, had a .500 mark for All-Star game play. He later was a major coach.

ANSWERS
1-Christy Mathewson.
2-Third base.
3-Yes, he can kick, pass or run with it.

North-South Grid Tilt Set Tonight

MIAMI (AP)—College Football's first family, the Majors of Tennessee, ends a colorful 19-season era in tonight's Shrine North-South game.

"Guess this is it until the next generation," said Johnny Majors, 36, who began it all as a University of Tennessee freshman tailback in 1953.

"College football has been great to the Majors family... and I hope we've added something to the game."

Bobby Majors, the last of five brothers, was an All-American safety at Tennessee this year and will patrol the secondary for the South in the all-star charity event.

His big brother, Johnny, will coach the North. The older Majors is now head coach at Iowa State.

Kickoff is scheduled for the nationally televised (ABC) game set for 9:10 p.m., EST, with the Orange Bowl crowd expected to top 25,000. The North has won the last five games to tie the series at 11-11.

From Johnny to Bobby, the sons of Shirley and Elizabeth Majors have added punch to college football for almost two decades. Shirley does his part, too. The father has been head coach at the University of the South in Sewanee, Tenn., since 1957.

Johnny was an All-American tailback in 1956 at Tennessee.

Lakers Top Houston; 28th In Row

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS The Los Angeles Lakers' record National Basketball Association winning streak has reached 28 games, but Coach Bill Sharman still is hungry for more victories.

"Heck, I'd like to win 10, 15 or 20 more in a row," Sharman said after the Lakers had demolished the Houston Rockets 137-115 with an 81-point second half Sunday night.

And no team has stopped the Lakers this season when they have had Jerry West in the lineup. West has played 32 games—Los Angeles has won them all. In the five games he missed, the team was 2-3.

Against the Rockets, West was sensational. He hit 14 of 17 field goal attempts and 10 of 13 free throws for a game-high 34 points. He also collected 17 assists.

Gail Goodrich added 28 points for Los Angeles. Jim McMillian, who suffered a seven-stitch wound in his right cheekbone in a collision with Houston's Cliff Meely, had 20 points. And Happy Hairston netted 15 points and grabbed 21 rebounds.

Elvin Hayes scored 33 points for Houston and Stu Lantz had 28.

The Lakers, held to a 56-56 deadlock at halftime, outscored Houston 41-35 and 40-24 in the final two periods.

Elsewhere in the NBA Sunday night, Milwaukee trounced Atlanta 114-92, Chicago edged Seattle 103-102, and Cleveland defeated Baltimore 108-102.

Auto Race Mechanic John Wills Succumbs

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP)—John Wills, renowned auto racing mechanic, died Christmas Day at a Nashville hospital. He was 53.

Wills was chief mechanic for many of the cars that competed at the Indianapolis 500.

He served as head mechanic for cars driven by A.J. Foyt, Tony Bettenhausen, Johnny Boyd, Bob Sweickert, Jerry Hoyt, Don Branson, Johnny Thompson and Bobby Marshall.

The second son, Joe, played quarterback at Florida State. Billy was a standout tailback at Tennessee, finishing in 1960.

Larry went with poppa, starting as a Sewanee tailback through 1965. Then came Bobby, a defender and kick returner who may have been the pick of the litter.

The North-South contest is one of two postseason games on Monday's schedule. Arizona State, 10-1, and Florida State, 8-3, clash in the first annual Fiesta Bowl at Tempe, Ariz.

Arizona State is the nation's eighth-ranked team.

The Fiesta Bowl will match Arizona State's potent ground game, headed by sophomore Woody Green, against Florida State's spectacular passing duo of Gary Huff and Rhett Dawson.

The rest of the week's college schedule:
Tuesday—Tangerine Bowl at Orlando, Fla., Toledo vs. Richmond; Blue-Gray Game at Montgomery, Ala.
Thursday—Peach Bowl at Atlanta, Mississippi vs. Georgia Tech.

Friday—Gator Bowl at Jacksonville, Fla., Georgia vs. North Carolina; East-West Shrine Game at San Francisco; Astro-Bluebonnet Bowl at Houston, Colorado vs. Houston.

Saturday—Orange Bowl at Miami, Nebraska vs. Alabama; Sugar Bowl at New Orleans, Oklahoma vs. Auburn; Rose Bowl at Pasadena, Calif., Michigan vs. Stanford; Cotton Bowl at Dallas, Penn State vs. Texas.

Football's 'Super Weekend' Coming Up For New Year's

MIAMI (AP)—Football's "Super Weekend" is ahead in Miami with the national championship college game plus a pro showdown, giving the Orange Bowl two 77,000 sellouts within 14 hours.

Next Saturday night's Orange Bowl game between No. 1-ranked Nebraska and No. 5 Alabama might have, according to ticket people, drawn a crowd of 250,000. Crimson Tide Coach Bear Bryant calls it "the biggest game there's ever been."

That one kicks off at 8 p.m. EST, and the college mob won't clear out of the mammoth horseshoe-shaped stadium until nearly midnight.

Next Sunday's 1 p.m. American Football Conference title game between the defending world champion Baltimore Colts and the Miami Dolphins is certain to generate even more enthusiasm among the local folks.

Tickets go on sale today for the Colts-Dolphins match and they may not last until nightfall.

There are no hotel rooms available for the New Year's weekend, no airplane space from most major cities and no rental cars for rent.

Miami's six-year-old pro team has become a full-fledged grown-up among the National Football League powerhouses. The Dolphins were 10-4 in 1970, then lost a playoff opener to Oakland 21-14.

This season, the Dolphins edged the Colts for the Eastern Division championship of the AFC with a 10-3-1 record and last Saturday nudged Kansas City 27-24 in the longest game ever played.

Miami won the 82-minute, 40-second battle on a Garo Yepremian field goal from 37 yards out midway through the second sudden-victory quarter.

About 4,000 Dolphin fans showed up at Miami International Airport at midnight Saturday to welcome the team back from Kansas City.

The work crews at the Orange Bowl may have to be beefed up for a quick cleanup following the Nebraska-Alabama masterpiece. The fastest they have ever tidied up the massive stadium after a big crowd was 16 hours.

Cavs Only Half Game Out Of First

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP)—The Cleveland Cavaliers are a half game out of first in the National Basketball Association's Central Division today, the result of pasting first-place Baltimore 108-102 Sunday night.

It was John Johnson's 40 points that paced the Cavaliers to victory. And he was assisted handily by Bobby Smith's 24 points, Walt Wesley's 20 points, and 21 of Cleveland's 49 rebounds, and Butch Beard's 18 points.

Wesley, having one of the finest games in his NBA career, also moved past the 4,000-point career scoring mark. He needed only 14 points Sunday to reach it.

For Johnson, it was the highest scoring output in his two-year pro career. He hit 17 from the floor and six of eight free shots. The Cavs hit 48.3 from the field as a team.

"I had the good shots tonight," he said. "When you get a hot hand you seem to get the good shots."

The victory was the Cavaliers' fourth straight over the Bulls.

Herve Filion Adds Another Race Mark

WINDSOR, Ont. (AP)—Herve Filion, world record holder for career victories and most victories in one season by a harness racing driver, has added another mark to his illustrious string.

The little 31-year-old reinsman from Lachute, Que., set a world record at Windsor Park Sunday, piloting seven winners on one card. No driver ever had won more than six on a single program.

END OF THE LINE — Baltimore Oriole uniform No. 20 worn by Frank Robinson for the past six seasons, is folded and put away by Janet Kehoe. This is the first uniform retired by the Orioles, and honors Robinson, who helped the club win four American league championships. Robinson was traded to Los Angeles in December.

Dishwasher Dies; Estate $300,000

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Sam Hamilton, a shy, quiet man who spent his declining years as a dishwasher in a mission and a janitor at the stock exchange has left a $300,000 fortune.

His bequests became known over the weekend. They include $150,000 to the Life Line Mission in San Francisco and $110,000 to Messiah College in Grant-Ham, Pa. Both are operated by the Brethren in Christ Church.

Confirming the bequests, the Rev. Paul Hill, superintendent of the mission, said Hamilton, also had willed $1,000 each to more than a dozen friends he had made during the 13 years he lived at the mission.

Hamilton entered a convalescent home at Upland, in Southern California, in 1969, and died there last April 4 at the age of 89.

The minister said the staff knew that Hamilton had some money but was surprised at the amount.

He worked at the Pacific Coast Stock Exchange for many years, and "He apparently picked up some pretty good tips," said Hill.

At the mission he paid $50 a month for his room, always in cash, and earned his meals by helping in the kitchen.

Raise Return Ordered

TOWSON, Md. (AP)—The federal government has ordered the Baltimore County School Board to stop paying its 5,800 teachers normal incremental salary raises.

The government also ordered the board to reclaim $450,000 in raises already paid during the President's 90-day wage and price freeze.

Holiday Cage Tournaments Open Across Nation Today

By KEN RAPPOPORT Associated Press Sports Writer South Carolina's in Philadelphia, Louisville's in New York and most everyone else is someplace as the holiday season's college basketball tournaments begin a busy week today.

The Quaker City Classic hosts third-ranked South Carolina in a field of eight that also includes Tennessee, Villanova and Massachusetts. The favored Gamecocks won this one three years ago and already have the Cable Car Classic to their credit this season.

Louisville, the nation's No. 17 team, plays in a first-round doubleheader of the Holiday Festival Tournament in Madison Square Garden. The Missouri Valley Conference representatives rate a slim edge in the eight-team battle with Syracuse, Providence and Penn State also given shots at the crown.

Marquette is staying home to host the Milwaukee Classic and the second-ranked Warriors will probably be a prohibitive favorite to win their tourney. Marshall, No. 20, which earlier won the Marshall Memorial Tourney, is given an outside chance in the four-team field.

Jacksonville, ranked No. 16, is one of the top teams in the All-College Tournament at Oklahoma City.

Other tourneys starting today include, the Astro-Blue Bonnet Classic in Houston; the Big Eight in Kansas City, the Motor City in Detroit, the Rainbow Classic at Honolulu, the St. Louis Holiday and the Utah State Classic at Logan, Utah.

Two ranked teams are entered in both the Old Dominion Holiday Tournament at Norfolk, Va., and the Kodak Classic in Rochester, N.Y., both of which start Tuesday.

Brigham Young, ranked No. 7, and eighth-ranked Indiana match muscle in an interesting first-round game in the Old Dominion and No. 5 Southern California and No. 13 Penn play an opening contest in the Kodak.

Other Tuesday-opening tourneys include the International City Classic, of which No. 9 Long Beach State is host, the Gator Bowl in Jacksonville, Fla. and the Road Runner Invitational in Las Cruces, N.M.

Top-ranked UCLA is the pick of the field in the Bruin Classic at Los Angeles, starting Wednesday, with No. 6 Ohio State the top challenger.

Fourth-ranked North Carolina plays in the Sugar Bowl Classic in New Orleans; St. John's, N.Y., No. 10, and 15th-ranked Maryland compete in the Maryland Invitational at College Park, Md., and No. 18 Virginia is in the Palmetto Classic at Charleston, S.C.

Pro Grid Winners Seek League Crowns

By BRUCE LOWITT Associated Press Sports Writer "Don't look back," was the message from the White House. Unfortunately, it went to the Washington Redskins, who have nowhere else to look until next season.

It's San Francisco, Dallas, Baltimore and Miami that aren't looking back today. They're looking forward to the one final step that leads to New Orleans and Super Bowl VI.

The 49ers and Cowboys will go at it next Sunday in Dallas in a repeat performance of their clash of a year ago for the National Conference championship.

Dallas, which won that battle 17-10—only to lose 16-13 to Baltimore in the Super Bowl—earned the right Saturday to shoot for the conference crown again by muzzling the Minnesota Vikings 20-12.

And on Sunday, the 49ers earned the right to take another shot at the Cowboys by rallying to edge Washington's Redskins 24-20.

In the American Conference scraps, Miami and Kansas City engaged in the longest game in pro football history Saturday before Garo Yepremian's 37-yard field goal booted the Dolphins to a 27-24 triumph.

And Baltimore, with Johnny Unitas picking apart the Cleveland defense and the Colts' defense smothering the Browns' attack, breezed to a 20-3 victory and the chance for a third game this season against Miami, also on Sunday.

"We made too many mistakes and they didn't make any," Redskins Coach George Allen sighed. Three of the biggest were a bad guess, a bad pass and a bad snap.

The guess came with Washington leading 10-3 early in the third quarter and a fourth-down-and-inches-to-go on the San Francisco 11-yard line. Allen gambled that "Skins could make the first down—and guessed wrong.

Three plays later the game was tied as 49ers' quarterback John Brodie and wide receiver

Gene Washington teamed on a 78-yard touchdown bomb.

The bad pass by Washington quarterback Billy Kilmer came only minutes later. Roosevelt Taylor intercepted it to set up Brodie's two-yard scoring strike to tight end Bo Windsor.

And the bad snap cost the 'Skins the game. It squibbed past punter Mike Bragg and bounced into the end zone, where the 49ers' Bob Hoskins pounced on it for a touchdown.

Bruce Gossett added the other San Francisco points with a field goal while Curt Knight booted two for Washington and Kilmer passed for a pair of touchdowns.

Don Nottingham, subbing for injured Norm "Boo" Bulaich in the Baltimore backfield, wound up with 92 yards rushing and two touchdowns while the Colts limited the entire Cleveland ground game to a mere 69 yards.

"Boo is a better runner overall and he's a better receiver," Colts Coach Don McCafferty said. "However, we got a great job from Nottingham here, especially when you consider he's a rookie coming into his home area to play."

While Nottingham was grinding up the Browns and Unitas was shredding them—the cagey quarterback completed 13 of 21 passes for 143 yards—Bubba Smith was standing atop a defensive wall that yielded only one field goal. Bubby personally blocked two others.

The Cowboys, with the No. 1 offense in the NFC, finally got it rolling against the Vikings' No. 1 defense after taking only a 6-3 halftime lead. But it was the Dallas defense that actually ignited it.

Cliff Harris' interception of a Bob Lee pass set up the Cowboys' first touchdown, a 13-yard Duane Thomas scamper on the very next play. Then Roger Staubach quarterbacked Dallas 52 yards, capping the drive with a nine-yard scoring pass to Bob Hayes.

The Kansas City-Miami clash was a nerve-rattler from start to finish with the Chiefs repeatedly taking the lead and the Dolphins repeatedly rallying to obliterate it.

Kansas City seemed set to win it in regulation play when Ed Podolac slammed over from three yards out with 6:46 to go. But quarterback Bob Griese brought the Dolphins right back to tie it 24-24 with 1:36 remaining on a five-yard touchdown pass to Marv Fleming.

Then it seemed a sure bet that Kansas City would win it with 35 seconds still on the clock—but, incredibly, Jan Stenerud's 32-yard field goal attempt sailed wide to the right.

He also had a chance to win it for Kansas City in the first overtime with a 42-yarder. But this time Nick Buoniconti blocked the boot.

Then, finally, 22 minutes and 40 seconds after the fourth quarter had ended, and on the 44th play of overtime, Yepremian booted the Chiefs to the sidelines and the Dolphins to victory.

Circleville Hosts Vikings In County Rivalry Clash

Cage action makes its holiday appearance Tuesday night when the Vikings of Teays Valley meet the Tigers of Circleville on the Red and Black floor.

Coach John Lawhorn will send his high scoring Tigers 4-2 on the season against the Vikings of Coach Bob Hoover, 1-5 for the year, who after an opening victory have not been able to come up with a winning combination again.

The Teays Valley win was a 74-72 conquest over Miami, a team that upended the Vikings, 68-59, and who are leading the South Central Ohio League.

Circleville is ripping the cords at a 75 point per game average and the sticky man to man defense is limiting the opponents to 62 markers per contest.

OFFENSIVELY the Vikings have been putting 66 points a game on the scoreboard but the defense has been yielding 79 markers per fray.

But in a county rivalry anything can happen and usually does so you can toss the records out the window and let the chips fall where they may.

Terry Morrison is the main cog in the Red and Black machine and the Vikings will have to control the Tiger Terror if they hope to come out of the contest on the winning side.

He makes the Tiger roar with his fine ball handling, quick defensive moves and great shooting ability. Morrison is averaging 20.3 points per game and has the knack of coming up with the key buckets.

Balanced scoring has been the strong point of the Tiger attack with Dave Truex hitting the nets at an 18 point per contest clip and Don Valentine and Dan Graham averaging a little over 10 points each in the six contests.

For Circleville it will probably be Jim Neal and Morrison at the guard spots, Graham at center and Truex and Valentine working up front.

Jeff Sheets, a red-headed forward, leads Teays Valley with a game average of 13.8 and does a good job on the boards.

STEVE Bumgarner is shooting at an 11.3 average per contest and Jack Brinker is hitting a little better than nine points per fray.

The rest of the Viking scoring comes from Randy Nungster, Dave Chaffin, Jim Logsdien, Jerry Sabine, Jim Pabst and Craig Pontius.

Depth on the Tiger bench provides extra punch with Kent Wolfe, Dave Mehalick and Randy Sprout leading the way.

Meet The Tigers

Dave Mehalick is a sophomore member of the Circleville High School basketball team. Mehalick is the son of Mr. and Mrs. William Mehalick, 140 Reber Ave.

Ohio College Cage Teams In Tourneys

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Rested from an idle Christmas weekend, some Ohio college basketball teams return to the courts tonight, mostly in tournament play.

Unbeaten Defiance, sporting an average winning margin of 22 points in five games, is figured the team to beat in the Hoosier-Buckeye Conference tournament at Findlay.

Two Indiana teams, Earlham and Taylor, both with 7-2 records, also could provide some tough competition in the nine-team tourney. Earlham has been hitting 54 per cent of its shots from the field and Taylor has been averaging 106 points a game.

Eastern Michigan, runnerup in last year's NAIA tournament, West Virginia State, Genesee State, N. Y., and the host Eagles compete in the two-day Ashland Tournament opening tonight.

Mount Union is hosting a tournament, with the other Ohio competitors being Baldwin-Wallace and Hiram.

Bowling Green travels to Detroit for the Motor City Classic and Wittnberg will be in Minneapolis for the Lutheran Tournament.

In non-tournament action tonight, Cincinnati visits Butler, Cleveland State is at Kent State and Capital invades Wayne State, Mich.

North-South Grid Tilt Set Tonight

MIAMI (AP) —College Football's first family, the Majors of Tennessee, ends a colorful 19-season era in tonight's Shrine North-South game.

"Guess this is it until the next generation," said Johnny Majors, 36, who began it all as a University of Tennessee freshman tailback in 1953.

"College football has been great to the Majors family... and I hope we've added something to the game."

Bobby Majors, the last of five brothers, was an All-American safety at Tennessee this year and will patrol the secondary for the South in the all-star charity event.

His big brother, Johnny, will coach the North. The older Majors is now head coach at Iowa State.

Kickoff is scheduled for the nationally televised (ABC) game set for 9:10 p.m., EST, with the Orange Bowl crowd expected to top 25,000. The North has won the last five games to tie the series at 11-11-1.

From Johnny to Bobby, the sons of Shirley and Elizabeth Majors have added punch to college football for almost two decades. Shirley does his part, too. The father has been head coach at the University of the South in Sewanee, Tenn., since 1957.

Johnny was an All-American tailback in 1956 at Tennessee.

The second son, Joe, played quarterback at Florida State. Billy was a standout tailback at Tennessee, finishing in 1960.

Larry went with poppa, starting as a Sewanee tailback through 1965. Then came Bobby, a defender and kick returner who may have been the pick of the litter.

The North-South contest is one of two postseason games on Monday's schedule. Arizona State, 10-1, and Florida State, 8-3, clash in the first annual Fiesta Bowl at Tempe, Ariz.

Arizona State is the nation's eighth-ranked team.

The Fiesta Bowl will match Arizona State's potent ground game, headed by sophomore Woody Green, against Florida State's spectacular passing duo of Gary Huff and Rhett Dawson.

The rest of the week's college schedule:

Tuesday—Tangerine Bowl at Orlando, Fla., Toledo vs. Richmond; Blue-Gray Game at Montgomery, Ala.

Thursday—Peach Bowl at Atlanta, Mississippi vs. Georgia Tech.

Friday—Gator Bowl at Jacksonville, Fla., Georgia vs. North Carolina; East-West Shrine Game at San Francisco; Astro-Bluebonnet Bowl at Houston, Colorado vs. Houston.

Saturday—Orange Bowl at Miami, Nebraska vs. Alabama; Sugar Bowl at New Orleans, Oklahoma vs. Auburn; Rose Bowl at Pasadena, Calif., Michigan vs. Stanford; Cotton Bowl at Dallas, Penn State vs. Texas.

Football's 'Super Weekend' Coming Up For New Year's

MIAMI (AP) — Football's "Super Weekend" is ahead in Miami with the national championship college game plus a pro showdown, giving the Orange Bowl two 77,000 sellouts within 14 hours.

Next Saturday night's Orange Bowl game between No. 1-ranked Nebraska and No. 5 Alabama might have, according to ticket people, drawn a crowd of 250,000. Crimson Tide Coach Bear Bryant calls it "the biggest game there's ever been."

That one kicks off at 8 p.m. EST, and the college mob won't clear out of the mammoth horseshoe-shaped stadium until nearly midnight.

Next Sunday's 1 p.m. American Football Conference title game between the defending world champion Baltimore Colts and the Miami Dolphins is certain to generate even more enthusiasm among the local folks.

Tickets go on sale today for the Colts-Dolphins match and they may not last until nightfall.

There are no hotel rooms available for the New Year's weekend, no airplane space from most major cities and no rental cars for rent.

Miami's six-year-old pro team has become a full-fledged grown-up among the National Football League powerhouses. The Dolphins were 10-4 in 1970, then lost a playoff opener to Oakland 21-14.

This season, the Dolphins edged the Colts for the Eastern Division championship of the AFC with a 10-3-1 record and last Saturday nudged Kansas City 27-24 in the longest game ever played.

Miami won the 82-minute, 40-second battle on a Garo Yepremian field goal from 37 yards out midway through the second sudden-victory quarter.

About 4,000 Dolphin fans showed up at Miami International Airport at midnight Saturday to welcome the team back from Kansas City.

The work crews at the Orange Bowl may have to be beefed up for a quick cleanup following the Nebraska-Alabama masterpiece. The fastest they have ever tidied up the massive stadium after a big crowd was 16 hours.

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — The Cleveland Cavaliers are a half game out of first in the National Basketball Association's Central Division today, the result of pasting first-place Baltimore 108-102 Sunday night.

It was John Johnson's 40 points that paced the Cavaliers to victory. And he was assisted handsily by Bobby Smith's 24 points, Walt Wesley's 20 points, and 21 of Cleveland's 49 rebounds, and Butch Bear's 18 points.

Wesley, having one of the finest games in his NBA career, also moved past the 4,000-point career scoring mark. He needed only 14 points Sunday to reach it.

For Johnson, it was the highest scoring output in his two-year pro career. He hit 17 from the floor and six of eight free shots. The Cavs hit 48.3 from the field as a team.

"I had the good shots tonight," he said. "When you get a hot hand you seem to get the good shots."

The victory was the Cavaliers' fourth straight over the Bullets.

Herve Filion Adds Another Race Mark

WINDSOR, Ont. (AP) — Herve Filion, world record holder for career victories and most victories in one season by a harness racing driver, has added another mark to his illustrious string.

NEW YORK (AP) — The man who arranges dressing spots in the New York Rangers' dressing room knows his stuff. Some time ago, he stationed Vic Hadfield next to Glen Sather. Call it Kibitzer's Corner.

Hadfield kids Sather and Sather kids Hadfield. Sunday night, the two of them ganged up on the Montreal Canadiens. It was an unfair match.

Hadfield fired two goals, ending an eight-game dry spell, and Sather connected once, ending a season-long dry spell as the Rangers blitzed the Canadiens 5-1. The victory, extending New York's home ice unbeaten streak to 17 games, left the front-running Rangers a fat seven points ahead of third-place Montreal in the National Hockey League's East Division.

URICH, Switzerland (AP) — After shooting down Juergen Blin, Muhammad Ali has his sights on another target. It won't be Joe Frazier, though.

"Not until late next year, at the earliest," Angelo Dundee, Ali's trainer, said Sunday in answer to questions about a possible rematch with the heavy-weight champion.

Ali, who knocked out Blin in the seventh round Sunday with a crippling right cross, is expected to fight again as early as March in Miami Beach. The opponent hasn't been named yet.

Elsewhere in the NBA Sunday night, Milwaukee trounced Atlanta 114-92, Chicago edged Seattle 103-102, and Cleveland defeated Baltimore 108-102.

Pro Grid Winners Seek League Crowns

By BRUCE LOWITT

Associated Press Sports Writer

"Don't look back," was the message from the White House. Unfortunately, it went to the Washington Redskins, who have nowhere else to look until next season.

It's San Francisco, Dallas, Baltimore and Miami that aren't looking back today. They're looking forward to the one final step that leads to New Orleans and Super Bowl VI.

The 49ers and Cowboys will go at it next Sunday in Dallas in a repeat performance of their clash of a year ago for the National Conference championship.

Dallas, which won that battle 17-10—only to lose 16-13 to Baltimore in the Super Bowl—earned the right Saturday to shoot for the conference crown again by muzzling the Minnesota Vikings 20-12.

And on Sunday, the 49ers earned the right to take another shot at the Cowboys by rallying to edge Washington's Redskins 24-20.

In the American Conference scraps, Miami and Kansas City engaged in the longest game in pro football history Saturday before Garo Yepremian's 37-yard field goal booted the Dolphins to a 27-24 triumph.

And Baltimore, with Johnny Unitas picking apart the Cleveland defense and the Colts' defense smothering the Browns' attack, breezed to a 20-3 victory and the chance for a third game this season against Miami, also on Sunday.

"We made too many mistakes and they didn't make any," Redskins Coach George Allen sighed. Three of the biggest were a bad guess, a bad pass and a bad snap.

The guess came with Washington leading 10-3 early in the third quarter and a fourth-down-and-inches-to-go on the San Francisco 11-yard line. Allen gambled that 'Skins could make the first down—and guessed wrong.

Three plays later the game was tied as 49ers' quarterback John Brodie and wide receiver

Gene Washington teamed on a 78-yard touchdown bomb.

The bad pass by Washington quarterback Billy Kilmer came only minutes later. Roosevelt Taylor intercepted it to set up Brodie's two-yard scoring strike to tight end Bo Windsor.

And the bad snap cost the 'Skins the game. It squibbed past punter Mike Bragg and bounced into the end zone, where the 49ers' Bob Hoskins pounced on it for a touchdown.

Bruce Gossett added the other San Francisco points with a field goal while Curt Knight booted two for Washington and Kilmer passed for a pair of touchdowns.

Don Nottingham, subbing for injured Norm "Boo" Blulaich in the Baltimore backfield, wound up with 92 yards rushing and two touchdowns while the Colts limited the entire Cleveland ground game to a mere 69 yards.

"Boo is a better runner overall and he's a better receiver," Colts Coach Don McCafferty said. "However, we got a great job from Nottingham here, especially when you consider he's a rookie coming into his home area to play."

While Nottingham was grinding up the Browns and Unitas was shredding them—the cagey quarterback completed 13 of 21 passes for 143 yards—Bubba Smith was standing atop a defensive wall that yielded only one field goal. Bubbay personally blocked two others.

The Cowboys, with the No. 1 offense in the NFC, finally got it rolling against the Vikings' No. 1 defense after taking only a 6-3 halftime lead. But it was the Dallas defense that actually ignited it.

Cliff Harris' interception of a Bob Lee pass set up the Cowboys' first touchdown, a 13-yard Duane Thomas scamper on the very next play. Then Roger Staubach quarterbacked Dallas 52 yards, capping the drive with a nine-yard scoring pass to Bob Hayes.

The Kansas City-Miami clash was a nerve-rattler from start to finish with the Chiefs repeatedly taking the lead and the Dolphins repeatedly rallying to obliterate it.

Kansas City seemed set to win it in regulation play when Ed Podolac slammed over from three yards out with 6:46 to go. But quarterback Bob Griese brought the Dolphins right back to tie it 24-24 with 1:36 remaining on a five-yard touchdown pass to Marv Fleming.

Then it seemed a sure bet that Kansas City would win it with 35 seconds still on the clock—but, incredibly, Jan Stenerud's 32-yard field goal attempt sailed wide to the right.

He also had a chance to win it for Kansas City in the first overtime with a 42-yarder. But this time Nick Buoniconti blocked the boot.

Then, finally, 22 minutes and 40 seconds after the fourth quarter had ended, and on the 44th play of overtime, Yepremian booted the Chiefs to the sidelines and the Dolphins to victory.

In Memoriam

In loving memory of Lawrence W. Reid who passed away two years ago today. Grief has its rhythm - first the wild, Swift tide of dark despair; The time of bleak aloneness; When even God's not there; And then the slow receding Tilt that calms the sea, And bare, washed sand is everywhere. Where castles used to be, The gentle lapping of the waves Upon the shore - and then The pearl-lined shells of memories To help us smile again. Those who missed by wife, Joan, children: Bruce, Brenda and Brad.

O'Brien To Be Watchdog Of Democratic Party Unity

WASHINGTON (AP) — Democratic National Chairman Lawrence F. O'Brien says he intends to monitor the campaign for his party's presidential nomination, and blow the whistle on any candidate assailing others in a fashion that might help Republicans.

O'Brien said he will spend six more months as "an activist and outspoken" Democratic chairman, prepared to chastise any presidential candidate who breaches agreements on the way the campaign for nomination will be conducted.

He presumably will yield the chairmanship next July 14 to a successor chosen by the man nominated for the White House at the Democratic national convention.

In a year-end report, O'Brien said he believes agreements among the candidates on the conduct of the campaign will be observed. "But I will not hesitate to speak out when, in my judgment, personal attacks or other violations of the agreements we have reached are damaging the party's chances to defeat Mr. Nixon and the Republicans in the general election," he said.

O'Brien said the crowded field of Democratic prospects offers the party "an opportunity to present its case to the American people in advance of the general election campaign."

But for that to work, he said, the Democratic contenders will have to hammer away during the primary campaigns at common themes of disagreement with Nixon, and not at each other.

The candidates have agreed to that, to limit their primary campaign spending to five cents for each registered voter for television and radio broadcasts, with a similar limit on other forms of campaign advertising.

In addition, O'Brien said, they have agreed to abide by the reforms instituted by the party to insure an open process of delegate selection for 1972.

Gen. 'Rosy' O'Donnell Dies At 65

WASHINGTON (AP) — Emmett "Rosy" O'Donnell, the general who led the first major bombing raid over Japan during World War II, died Sunday at his suburban Washington home. He was 65.

A family spokesman said the retired general suffered a cardiac arrest.

On Nov. 24, 1944, O'Donnell piloted the B29 Superfortress "Dauntless Dottie" that dropped the first bomb of the first land-based raid on Tokyo. The flight of 11 planes from O'Donnell's 73rd Bomb Wing took off from Saipan, 1,600 miles from their target.

O'Donnell was given the nickname Rosy for his pink cheeks and quick blazes as a cadet at West Point, where he was a star athlete.

O'Donnell's raid followed by nearly three years the daredevil bombing of Tokyo by then-Col. Jimmy Doolittle's carrier-based B25s.

In 1964, a year after his retirement from the Air Force, O'Donnell became president of United Service Organizations, the USO.

His funeral will be Wednesday at Ft. Myer, Va., outside Washington, and burial will be in the Air Force Academy cemetery in Colorado Springs, Colo. O'Donnell is survived by his widow Lorraine and two sons.

Speeding Charges Brought Against Teenage Drivers

Traffic cases were on the docket of Pickaway County Juvenile Court recently.

The case of a 17-year-old Columbus youth, arrested by the Highway Patrol for speeding 100 on Interstate 71 in Darby Twp., was transferred to Franklin County juvenile authority.

Carolyn Prichard, 15, Columbus, who was charged with driving without a license following an accident on Main St. here, had her case transferred to Franklin County.

An Ironton boy, 17, forfeited $15 bond on a speeding charge.

Curtis A. Dawson, 17, of Route 1, Orient, was arrested in Clinton County by the Wilmington State Patrol and his case sent here. Judge Guy Cline found the boy guilty of the charge and fined him $25 in addition to suspending his driving privileges for six months after receiving his license.

Judge Cline also issued an emergency order giving temporary custody of five children to the Pickaway County Child Welfare Board.

German Bandits Hold Police Hostages In $60,000 Heist

COLOGNE, Germany (AP) — Three gunmen held up a bank near the Cologne Cathedral today and drove away with three police hostages as thousands of spectators and armed police helplessly watched the noon-time drama.

The gunmen carted with them the mark equivalent of $60,000.

The two hostages, both described as high-ranking police officials, had exchanged themselves for three bank employees. The robbers had taken the employees hostage after being surprised by the arrival of a police patrol.

The patrol shot out three of the tires on the robbers' getaway car.

There followed two hours of negotiations between the police and robbers. This ended with the police agreeing to supply a mini-bus as a getaway car and the exchange of police for the original hostages.

Then one of the hostages, identified as district Police Chief Hans Krauss, came out of the bank and called out over a megaphone, "Please remain calm."

The crowd responded with silence and one of the gunmen quickly followed the police official. Although the trio had been masked when they entered the bank at 10:15 a.m., their faces were uncovered when they came out.

The gunmen got into the mini-bus with what appeared to be the cash. The others followed. Werner Hamacher, chief of Cologne's criminal police, got behind the wheel and drove the vehicle away through streets lined with thousands of onlookers.

All main routes leaving the city were ordered sealed off and a police helicopter hovered over the area.

A cashier in the bank, Theodor Grain, told a newsman:

"The three came in around ten o'clock and pulled out sub-machine guns and ordered everybody in the bank to lie on the floor. The gunmen were nervous at first but later calmed down."

Grain said he had no chance to give the alarm, but a customer managed to do so.

A patrol car arrived and one of the policemen shot the tires of the getaway car. The patrol withdrew when one of the robbers came out wielding a sub-machine gun.

Israelis, Arabs In Border Fight

TIBERIAS, Israel (AP) — Israeli troops and Arab infiltrators clashed near the Lebanese border Sunday night, and two Israeli soldiers were wounded, a military spokesman reported today.

The guerrillas escaped into Lebanon, he said.

The clash occurred near Avim, where Arab guerrillas ambushed a school bus in May 1970, killing 12 persons and wounding 22.

The American Bible Society in New York has distributed more than one billion copies of Scripture since it was organized in 1816.

Tools, Packages Stolen In City

The theft of a tool box and tools, packages stolen from a parked car and the breaking of a door at a local restaurant are under investigation by city police.

A truck belonging to Beach Sign Co., 316 W. Main St., was parked in the Clifton Garage, 119 S. Court St., and a tool box and tools were reported taken from the vehicle sometime Thursday. There was no evidence of forced entry to the building.

Robert Keaton, 460 N. Court St., reported the theft of several packages from his car Thursday night while it was parked in the lot at Buckeye Mart. Value was set at $40.

A door latch was broken at Man-Sels Restaurant on the Lancaster Pike Friday but nothing was reported missing.

O'Brien To Be Watchdog Of Democratic Party Unity

WASHINGTON (AP) — Democratic National Chairman Lawrence F. O'Brien says he intends to monitor the campaign for his party's presidential nomination, and blow the whistle on any candidate assailing others in a fashion that might help Republicans.

O'Brien said he will spend six more months as "an activist and outspoken" Democratic chairman, prepared to chastise any presidential candidate who breaches agreements on the way the campaign for nomination will be conducted.

He presumably will yield the chairmanship next July 14 to a successor chosen by the man nominated for the White House at the Democratic national convention.

In a year-end report, O'Brien said he believes agreements among the candidates on the conduct of the campaign will be observed. "But I will not hesitate to speak out when, in my judgment, personal attacks or other violations of the agreements we have reached are damaging the party's chances to defeat Mr. Nixon and the Republicans in the general election," he said.

O'Brien said the crowded field of Democratic prospects offers the party "an opportunity to present its case to the American people in advance of the general election campaign."

But for that to work, he said, the Democratic contenders will have to hammer away during the primary campaigns at common themes of disagreement with Nixon, and not at each other.

The candidates have agreed to that, to limit their primary campaign spending to five cents for each registered voter for television and radio broadcasts, with a similar limit on other forms of campaign advertising.

In addition, O'Brien said, they have agreed to abide by the reforms instituted by the party to insure an open process of delegate selection for 1972.

Gen. 'Rosy' O'Donnell Dies At 65

WASHINGTON (AP) — Emmett "Rosy" O'Donnell, the general who led the first major bombing raid over Japan during World War II, died Sunday at his suburban Washington home. He was 65.

A family spokesman said the retired general suffered a cardiac arrest.

On Nov. 24, 1944, O'Donnell piloted the B29 Superfortress "Dauntless Dottie" that dropped the first bomb of the first land-based raid on Tokyo. The flight of 111 planes from O'Donnell's 73rd Bomb Wing took off from Saipan, 1,600 miles from their target.

O'Donnell was given the nickname Rosy for his pink cheeks and quick blushes as a cadet at West Point, where he was a star athlete.

O'Donnell's raid followed by nearly three years the daredevil bombing of Tokyo by then-Col. Jimmy Doolittle's carrier-based B25s.

In 1964, a year after his retirement from the Air Force, O'Donnell became president of United Service Organizations, the USO.

His funeral will be Wednesday at Ft. Myer, Va., outside Washington, and burial will be in the Air Force Academy cemetery in Colorado Springs, Colo. O'Donnell is survived by his widow Lorraine and two sons.

Speeding Charges Brought Against Teenage Drivers

Traffic cases were on the docket of Pickaway County Juvenile Court recently.

The case of a 17-year-old Columbus youth, arrested by the Highway Patrol for speeding 100 on Interstate 71 in Darby Twp., was transferred to Franklin County juvenile authority.

Carolyn Prichard, 15, Columbus, who was charged with driving without a license following an accident on Main St. here, had her case transferred to Franklin County.

An Ironton boy, 17, forfeited $15 bond on a speeding charge.

Curtis A. Dawson, 17, of Route 1, Orient, was arrested in Clinton County by the Wilmington State Patrol and his case sent here. Judge Guy Cline found the boy guilty of the charge and fined him $25 in addition to suspending his driving privileges for six months after receiving his license.

Judge Cline also issued an emergency order giving temporary custody of five children to the Pickaway County Child Welfare Board.

two other provinces along the Laotian border.

The U.S. Command said the attacks were made "in reaction to enemy activity which imperils the diminishing U.S. forces currently in South Vietnam." An informant cited the recent increase in MIG, missile and artillery attacks on U.S. planes bombing North Vietnamese supply routes along the border between Laos and South Vietnam.

"Increasing MIG and antiaircraft activity inhibits U.S. air operations over the Ho Chi Minh trail in Laos where most of the supplies come into South Vietnam," said this source. "These war materials, if they reach North Vietnamese and Viet Cong forces in South Vietnam, can endanger the remainder in U.S. forces."

The same supply routes also carry war materials to the Communist forces fighting in Laos and Cambodia.

In the ground war, a spokesman for the Laotian Defense Ministry announced that North Vietnamese and Pathet Lao forces overran the hilltop positions of Ban Na, west of the Plain of Jars, and Khang Kho, south of the plain, during the weekend. There was no report of casualties, but both posts were manned by Thai troops.

The U.S. Command in Saigon announced that American troop strength in Vietnam dropped another 4,200 men last week, to 158,300, and five more Army units totaling 2,090 men stood down during the weekend prior to withdrawal.

Four of the units were from the 101st Airborne Division, which is rapidly completing its phaseout from the war zone.

German Bandits Hold Police Hostages In $60,000 Heist

COLOGNE, Germany (AP) — Three gunmen held up a bank near the Cologne Cathedral today and drove away with three police hostages as thousands of spectators and armed police helplessly watched the noon-time drama.

The gunmen carted with them the mark equivalent of $60,000.

The two hostages, both described as high-ranking police officials, had exchanged themselves for three bank employees. The robbers had taken the employees hostage after being surprised by the arrival of a police patrol.

The patrol shot out three of the tires on the robbers' getaway car.

There followed two hours of negotiations between the police and robbers. This ended with the police agreeing to supply a mini-bus as a getaway car and the exchange of police for the original hostages.

Then one of the hostages, identified as district Police Chief Hans Krauss, came out of the bank and called out over a megaphone, "Please remain calm."

The crowd responded with silence and one of the gunmen quickly followed the police official. Although the trio had been masked when they entered the bank at 10:15 a.m., their faces were uncovered when they came out.

The gunmen got into the mini-bus with what appeared to be the cash. The others followed. Werner Hamacher, chief of Cologne's criminal police, got behind the wheel and drove the vehicle away through streets lined with thousands of onlookers.

All main routes leaving the city were ordered sealed off and a police helicopter hovered over the area.

A cashier in the bank, Theodor Grain, told a newsmen: "The three came in around ten o'clock and pulled out sub-machine guns and ordered everybody in the bank to lie on the floor. The gunmen were nervous at first but later calmed down."

Grain said he had no chance to give the alarm, but a customer managed to do so.

A patrol car arrived and one of the policemen shot the tires of the getaway car. The patrol withdrew when one of the robbers came out wielding a sub-machine gun.

Tools, Packages Stolen In City

The theft of a tool box and tools, packages stolen from a parked car and the breaking of a door at a local restaurant are under investigation by city police.

A truck belonging to Beach Sign Co., 316 W. Main St., was parked in the Clifton Garage, 119 S. Court St., and a tool box and tools were reported taken from the vehicle sometime Thursday. There was no evidence of forced entry to the building.

Robert Keaton, 460 N. Court St., reported the theft of several packages from his car Thursday night while it was parked in the lot at Buckeye Mart. Value was set at $40.

A door latch was broken at Man-Sels Restaurant on the Lancaster Pike Friday but nothing was reported missing.

DAYTON, Ohio (AP) — James Spence, 18, of Fairborn, was killed today when his car hit a pole along an exit ramp on Interstate 75 within the city.

A passenger, Susan Jones, 19, of Fairborn, was injured, but not seriously.

Israeli, Arabs In Border Fight

TIBERIAS, Israel (AP) — Israeli troops and Arab infiltrators clashed near the Lebanese border Sunday night, and two Israeli soldiers were wounded, a military spokesman reported today.

The guerrillas escaped into Lebanon, he said.

The clash occurred near Avdim, where Arab guerrillas ambushed a school bus in May 1970, killing 12 persons and wounding 22.
